ROYALE

To DeeDee:

We've finally almost finished out the year. Aren't you happy. Bet we wait till September again. Hows George Bledsoe coming along. I hope o.k. Don't break up with him girl! All I want to say is do something about your life because it's the only one you've got. Unless you've got another one hiding in the closet. Keep-tree out of trouble and all the rest of the gang. Sweet and as cool as you always are. Also. Stay up to a T. Don't worry about and fix that capri and you won't get silly little things (like spanx) sometiings something nervous. You thought I was writing the Back Album Crazy. Well . . . . did I? Keep the faith. and "On the further brother" Also on the beams ☺

Take time to work—
it is the price of success.
Take time to think—
it is the source of power.
Take time to play—
it is the secret of perpetual youth.
Take time to read—
it is the foundation of wisdom.
Take time to be friendly—
it is the road to happiness.
Take time to dream—
it is hitching your wagon to a star.
Take time to love and be loved—it is the privilege of the Gods.
Take time to look around—the day is too short to be selfish.
Take time to laugh—
it is the music of the soul.

An Old Irish Prayer

Taking time—two very simple words which are sometimes ignored. In this age of fast living one rarely stops, be it only for a minute, to think and reflect. There are so many things to occupy a person's thoughts: "Have to get to class on time"..."Not another quiz!". Out of the 1056 hours a student spends in high school, every second is meaningful: waving to a friend, doing that last-minute term-paper typing, or just smiling at a teacher in passing...

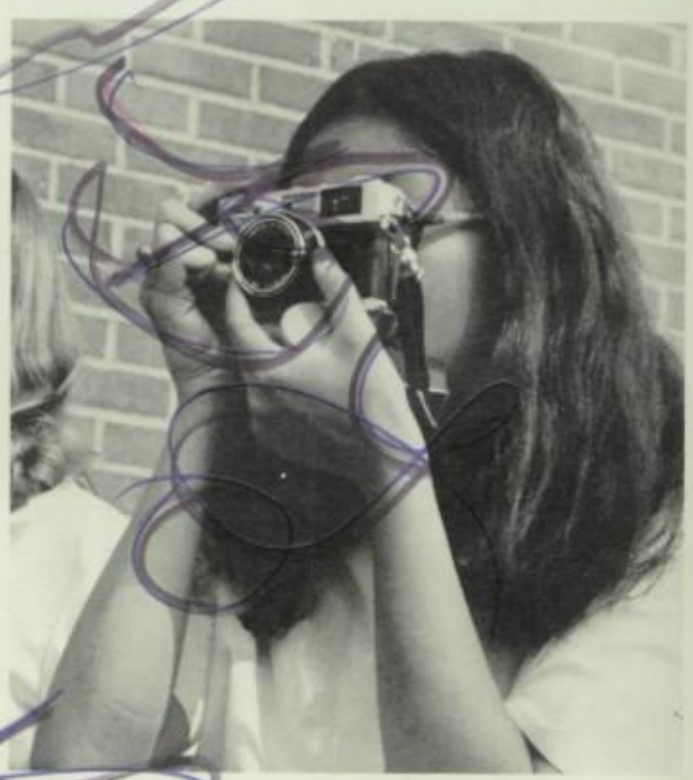
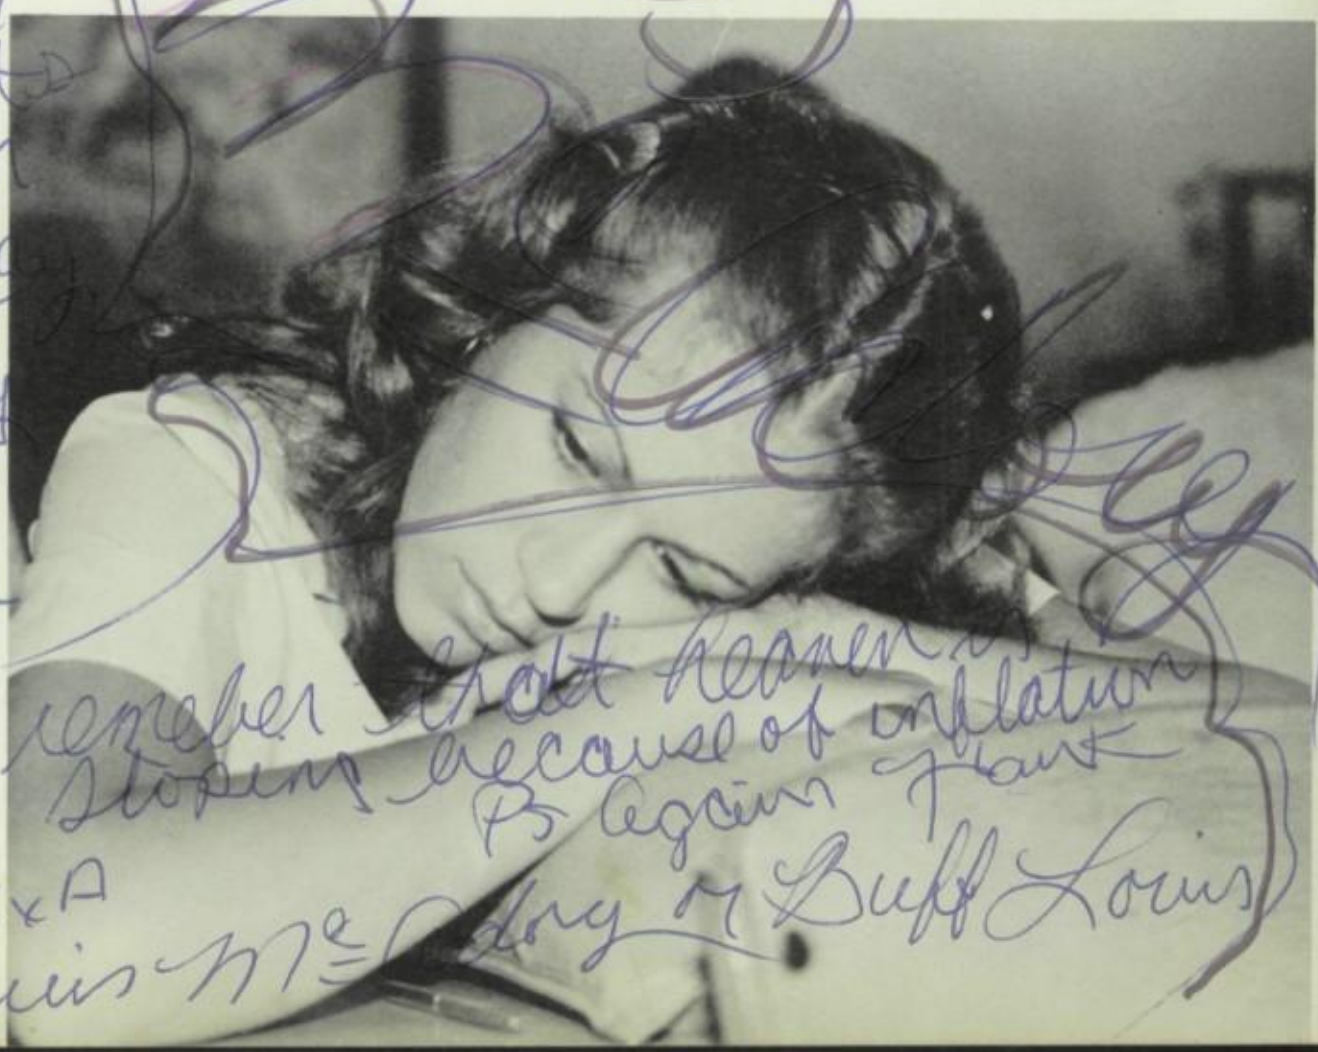
Dear Denise,
It has been nice knowing you + having you ~~for~~ for a friend! Keep sweet as you are + I'll see you next year!
Luv 4-ever,
Trisha Burrell

The staff of the 1980 ROYALE paused to record these times. So if memories of NDA are getting a little obscure, take time to open this book again and relive these special moments.





1. Bonnie Abaunza, headed for the Nerd Contest on Anything Goes Day, pauses to show off her outfit.
2. Karen Stronks and Mary Trescony, two members of the ensemble, are shown rehearsing their parts for the upcoming Christmas Concert.
3. Student Activities Commissioner Cathy Campbell symbolically inducts Julie King into the S.A.C. by lighting her candle, while A.S.B. President Michele Mazzarella looks on.
4. Kate Plourde and Monique Heyninck are two freshmen who appear to be enjoying lunch on a fine day, that is if Kate doesn't drop her sandwich!
5. The progress of this home volleyball game is being anxiously followed by N.D.'s patriotic cheering section.
6. It must be Monday morning, judging from Veronica Delery's woebegone expression.

Take time to be friendly-
it is the road to happiness.

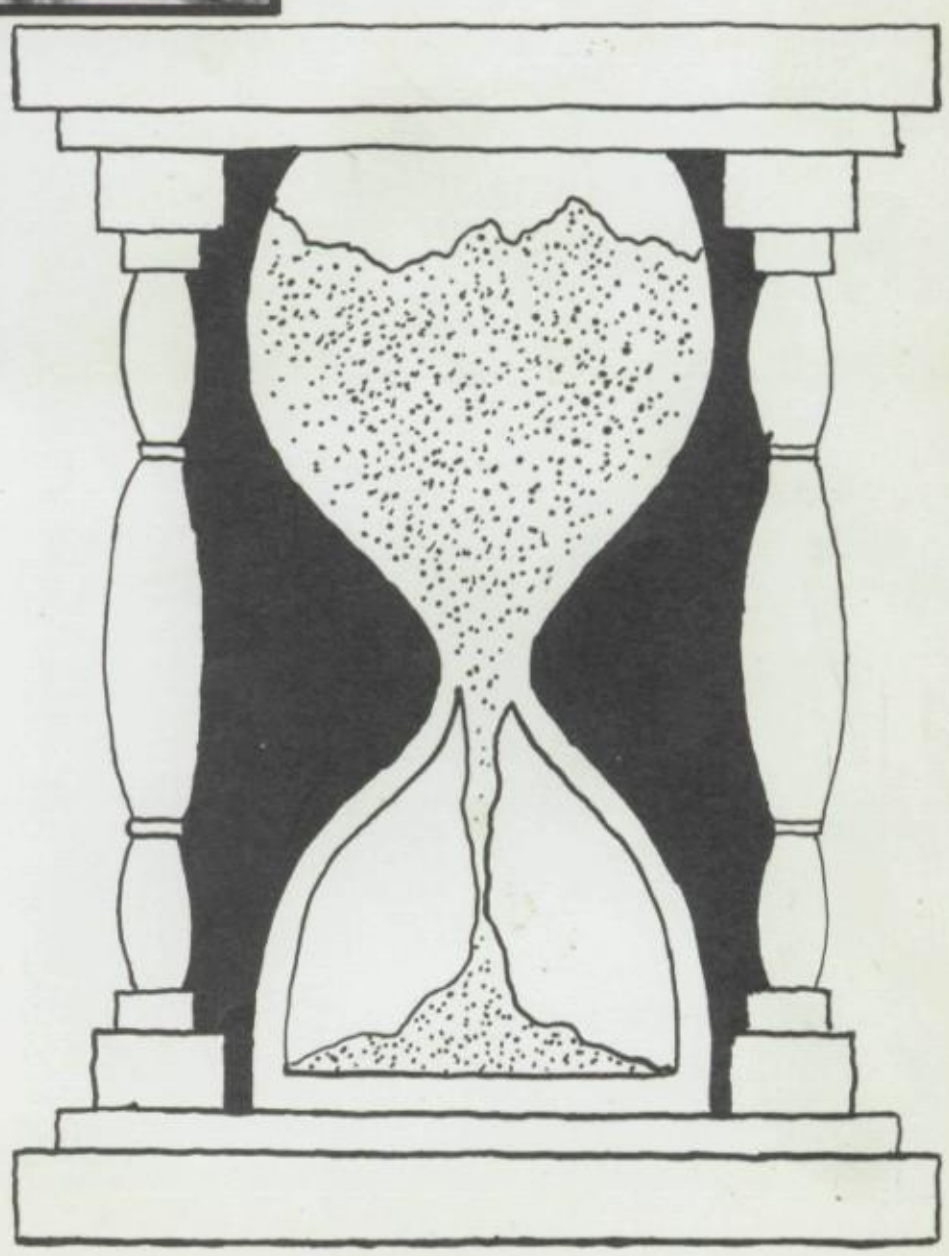
6. Glenda Collins, Landine Cespon, Maria Juarez and Melanie Piech cheer for the Sailor Sophs on Notre Dame Day.



For the four years that a student spends in high school, friendships are made with various types of persons. And as the years go by, these are cherished more and more. A special feature of NDA is the activities planned at the beginning of each school year to help the freshmen and incoming students make friends, and to renew those friendships made in the past.

Dear Denise,
I'm really glad I met you this year! You're a very sweet, terrific, and special person! I hope next year we can become better friends! Have a great summer! See ya next year!! Love always! Ana

Off to a good start as school opens

On Sept. 4, 1979, Orientation Day, the doors of Notre Dame High School opened wide to welcome the many tanned faces and eager smiles of the students for the school year '79-'80. It was a big success! The students met all their old friends, and more important, made new ones.

The next day, Book Day, was a busy one. A lot of the students came to school early ready to wheel and deal their old books with each other. For the newer books to be bought, a system that was smooth and fast-moving was awaiting. According to a more experienced junior, Book Day this year was fun and more organized.

The perfect climax for all this excitement was Picture Day, Sept. 11. Everyone came looking her best: uniforms neatly pressed, hair finely combed, and eyes sparkling with anticipation to face the all-important camera.

Juniors host picnic at Palms Park

Most freshmen seem to have a way of losing themselves during the first few weeks of school. That's why they are given big sisters from the junior class to help them get settled into their new school. September 14 was the day designated especially for the party in which big and little sisters could become acquainted. As tradition would have it, the party was held at Palms Park, across the street from the school, directly after dismissal. (That day was also the first day of classes.) The juniors supplied the lunches for themselves and for their little sisters. The weather was perfect. The park itself carried an ambience of friendship and happiness. Just by looking at the expressions on the girls' faces anyone could see that the Big-Little Sister Party was a success.

6. Anita Tabora and Rachel Couce take time out to pose for the staff photographer.

Friendship Week: time to discover, make friends

Friendship Week is a special time for the students to establish new friendships and to strengthen old ones. As per custom, it is held as close to the beginning of the school year as possible for the benefit of the freshmen who have not yet met their new schoolmates. The second full week of school, September 17-22, was Friendship Week. It was definitely an enjoyable time for all.

The seniors began Friendship Week by sponsoring Family Day. Families were set up with a senior, her little sister (a sophomore), a junior, and her little sister (a freshman). Their names were then written on backs of Christmas cards, and each card was cut into a jigsaw puzzle. During a specially lengthened homeroom period, each student received the puzzle piece with her name on it. Immediately, she went into the circle to find the rest of her family, which would have the remaining pieces of their Christmas card. As each family came together, they sat down to pick their surname and to make up a coat of arms for a contest. The winners of the coat of arms contest were the Smith family: Sybil Bordenave, Mary Trescony, Irene Wagner, and Yumi Wakakuwa.

The next day was Second Childhood Day, sponsored by the juniors. The students were once again allowed to appear as little children by wearing ponytails, ribbons and by carrying little dolls. A stuffed animal contest and a baby picture contest were held during the lunch period. Kelli Horne brought in the cutest stuffed animal, and Alison Hassler submitted the cutest baby picture.

The following day the sophomores sponsored Anything Goes Day. This time the students were allowed to do practically anything extraordinary without breaking the regulations. Several contests and games were held during the lunch period. There was a peanut blowing contest on the gym floor to see who could get her peanut to the finish line in the least amount of time. Natty Priestly and Maura Sheehan won that one. There was a water balloon toss and the winner of that was Letty Alvarez. There was also a game won by Rita Eilers and Barbara Kohne in which two partners had to walk across the gym floor with a balloon between their bodies. Then there was the nerd contest to see who was the nerdiest student in the entire student body. Alison Hassler won this one handily with her extraordinary outfit, which was so outrageous a picture of it cannot be printed.

September 20 was Take-a-Friend-to-Lunch Day sponsored by the freshmen. The students filled out little invitations which they gave to their friends. Then, during the lunch period, they exchanged lunches. This was a good way to show trust in their friends.

Saturday, September 22, the Friendship Dance ended Friendship Week. It was held from 8:00-12:00 in the gym. The band hired for this event was an excellent one, Venice. Being the first social event of the year, the attendance was tremendous. Students from private schools in the Los Angeles area came. Not only was this dance very successful for the Student Activities Council, which made a huge profit, but it was also a very good way to end Friendship Week.

To Dee Dee! A wonderful, lively person. I've enjoyed your company & I'm looking forward of enjoying it next year. Have a pleasant summer and I'll see you on Sept. 2, 1980!

Luv,
Bridget Cole

1. Good friends are hard to find, but these girls, Veronica Delery, Shelia O'Connell, Shelly Caldwell, and Alicia Cenzano, did not have to look too far. They really have the spirit of Friendship Week.
2. Teresa Pace and Jane Sepulveda are comparing their Christmans card pieces to see if they are in the same family. It seems that their pieces do not quite fit. Debbie Ikeda looks on.
3. These girls are just finishing their costumes for the nerd contest as the photographer snaps their picture. On top is Pam Hoffman, and the bottom row includes Alicia Bambrick, Susan Brennan, and Denise Dell'Amico.
4. Terry Sadowski and Judilyn Powers are excited about meeting their new families, but they just are not sure how they will manage that in the growing crowd.

The pride shines On Notre Dame Day

The super-spirited students had a great time on Notre Dame Day. This year the school celebrated Notre Dame Day on Monday, October 8, 1979. As usual, the girls began the day by practicing songs for Mass. Father Jim Forsen from St. Joan of Arc Church in West Los Angeles celebrated the Mass. The students' favorite part of Mass is the sign of peace. After Mass, preparations were made for the parade around the campus. The girls then went to the gym to watch the class cheerleaders. Each class has its own name. This year, they were the Sesame Street Seniors, Jet Set Juniors, Sailor Sophomores, and the Freaky Freshmen. The cheerleaders got the classes into a very spirited mood. The students then had lunch, provided as a treat by the school. After lunch, the competition for the best class volleyball team began. The juniors played the freshmen, and the seniors played the sophs. The winners of those two games then battle it out. The two finalists were the sophs and the frosh. For the second year, the class of '82 was victorious in the volleyball intramurals.

Senior year is the time in a young person's life when she realizes that the future is the next step. It is no longer a dream, but a reality. Up until the twelfth grade, she has been scheming, dreaming about, and considering possible life goals. Senior year is the time when she measures all that she is and applies it to all that she can be. In this time of serious reflection, it is important for every girl to spend time with her family, to cherish friendships, and to continue to dream.

Seniors reach out together

"Be here at 5:00; we leave at 5:30," said Sister Mary Carlann to the senior class. They were to leave school on the 16th of October and return on the 18th. The retreat was held at Camp Mariastella in Wrightwood.

This was a very enjoyable retreat, but not just because of the experiences that the seniors had. This was the first year that all of the seniors went at once. On the way to the camp, sparks started coming from the back of one of the buses. After calling for help the other bus proceeded to the camp. The crippled bus finally arrived about 9:30 p.m.

After getting acquainted with the retreat team, Father Liam Kidney, Father Bob Jabro, Father Tim Nichols, and Deacon John Higson, the activities began. The Senior Class wants to thank the team and Sister Mary Carlann, Sister Gina Marie, Annie Saidy and Phil O'Donnell for being there.

Seniors re-create Sesame Street

Do you remember the characters from Sesame Street? Well—the seniors did and it became their theme for Notre Dame Day. The Cookie Monster, Big Bird, Bert and Ernie came to the stage of NDA.

In the past years, the Class of 1980 came as Filmstar Frosh, The Star War Sophs, and the Jailbreak Juniors. When asked about the success of this year's theme, they all said that it was the best. The sets, created by Jackie Otero, brought the true atmosphere of Sesame Street. Lisa Joyce made the costumes for the characters, and Ann Kwinn devised the dance routines. The class song was arranged by Nancy Hawkins.

One senior commented that the most memorable things of the day were the "purple" song that was not able to be heard, and losing the volleyball game to the sophomores.

The high standards of Notre Dame Academy are shown to the students through the leadership of Sister Mary La Tier, the principal. Sister also teaches Christian Womanhood and marriage. Commenting on the Notre Dame family, Sister says, "The people—the students are invigorating—and the staff members are marvelous, dedicated persons!"

Sister Gina Marie, who is the assistant principal and who teaches chemistry and physiology, says that the enthusiasm of the students and each girl's concern for others is what touches her the most. One of her current special interests is the 1980 presidential campaign.

Miss Linda Horwinski teaches Spanish I, II, III. Her most memorable event at NDA was a time when a student told her that her dog had eaten her homework. The only problem with this was that the student did not have a dog. In her spare time, she enjoys needlepoint, cooking, ceramics, and ethnic restaurants.

Being new to the NDA faculty, Mrs. Karin Peterson teaches several courses which are also new to the curriculum—notehand and personal finance. She also teaches typing. When she is not teaching, Mrs. Peterson enjoys reading, skiing and needlepoint.

Mrs. Meredeth Vogler presently teaches French I, II, III, IV, and the Advanced Placement course in French. Therefore, it is not surprising that she enjoys reading French stories and attending French movies. Mrs. Vogler also loves to travel and to sew. Her most remembered moment at NDA was falling down on top of the Canadian National Ping Pong Championships.

Mrs. Karin Peterson

Mrs. Meredeth Vogler

Mrs. Barbara Roth

Another very special member of the Notre Dame family is Mrs. Barbara Roth. This year, Mrs. Roth is teaching English 12 and the semester course in mass media. When asked about her evaluation of NDA, Mrs. Roth replied, "The spirit of cooperation and concern makes NDA an experience in love which the students will always remember."

1. Sister Mary La Tier happily welcomes the members of the Class of 1983 to Notre Dame during the opening assembly on Orientation Day.
2. As adviser of both the Student Council and Student Activities Council, Sister Gina Marie finds herself helping in a great many ways. In this picture, Sister and Michele Mazzarella are preparing to serve a lunch for the faculty.

3. Like the students, faculty members enjoy spare moments to chat and catch up on odds and ends. In this picture are Mrs. Meredeth Vogler, Ms. Linda Horwinski, and Mrs. Karin Peterson taking a break.
4. Mrs. Barbara Roth stresses the importance of developing the theme of an essay to her seniors.

With ceremics for a hobby, it is not surprising that Sister Mary St. Ann is the veteran art teacher of Notre Dame. In addition to that, it is also not unusual to find Sister in the art room most of the time; without any hesitation, Sister admits that the art room is her favorite place to be in the high school. Along with her talkative friend, Rhett "R.B." Butler, the parakeet, Sister Mary St. Ann spends a great deal of time talking to the art students and giving advice as to how to go about their projects.

If one word is sought to describe Miss Sue Gottenbos, it would be "music". In addition to teaching Religion 9, she teaches the fundamentals of music class, directs the advanced chorus, and practices with the ensemble after school. Whenever there is a student body Mass, Miss Gottenbos coordinates a guitar group to lead the singing. Her most memorable moment in her two years at Notre Dame occurred when she and her choir worked hard in preparing for their 1978 Christmas concert, and at the end of the concert, the choir members showed their appreciation with a bouquet of flowers.

Although she is not a math teacher, Sister Anna Maria spends a great deal of time with numbers. As Notre Dame's accountant, Sister keeps the bills paid and the books balanced. During the second quarter, Sister taught a course in Christian Prayer, and provided the students with a variety of prayer experiences to help them grow spiritually. During the second semester, Sister also worked with Mrs. Delaney in the Advanced Placement Spanish class. In her spare time, Sister enjoys music and sports of all types.

Notre Dame's physical education teacher, Mrs. Vilija Karalius, also teaches Drivers' Education and Health. Some of her hobbies include skiing, volleyball, and playing the guitar. What Mrs. Karalius enjoys most about Notre Dame is the friendly atmosphere and the great school spirit. When asked about her most memorable moments here, she said that there wasn't one big one, but rather very many little ones.

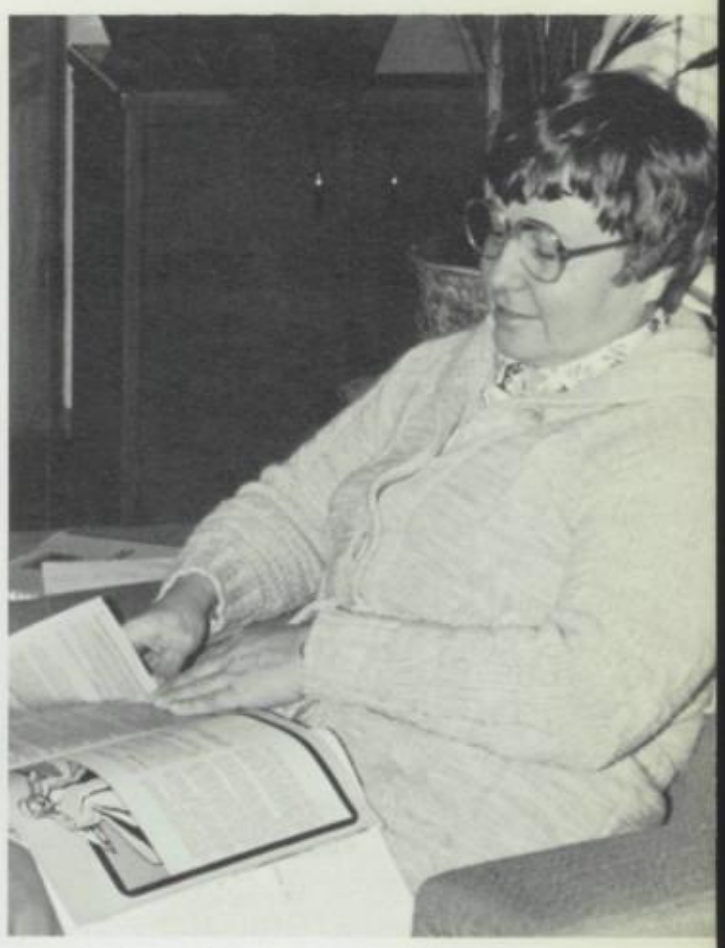
As a teacher of biology, physics, and introductory physical science, Mrs. Elaine Des Roches finds NDA's school spirit quite impressive. In addition to teaching, she sings in a choir and participates in a charismatic prayer group.



1. In one of their frequent after-school rehearsals, Miss Gottenbos works with members of the ensemble. Shown with her are Jane Sepulveda, Kelli Horne, Karen Stronks, and Mary Trescony.
2. Sister Anna Maria waits patiently in the hall outside Room 306 for one class to end so that she can set up the audio-visuals necessary for her Christian prayer class.

Mrs. Mary Athan

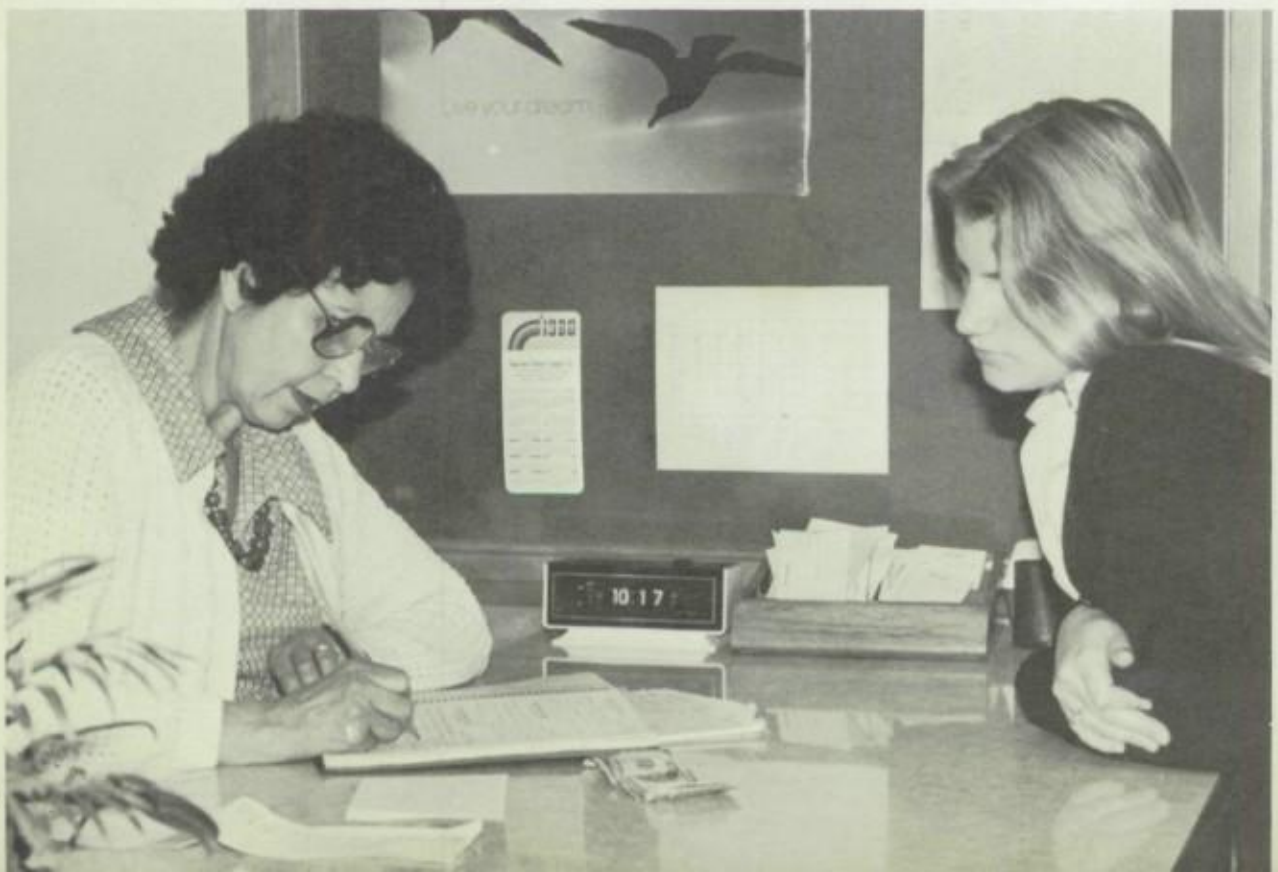
Sister Mary Carlann, S.N.D.

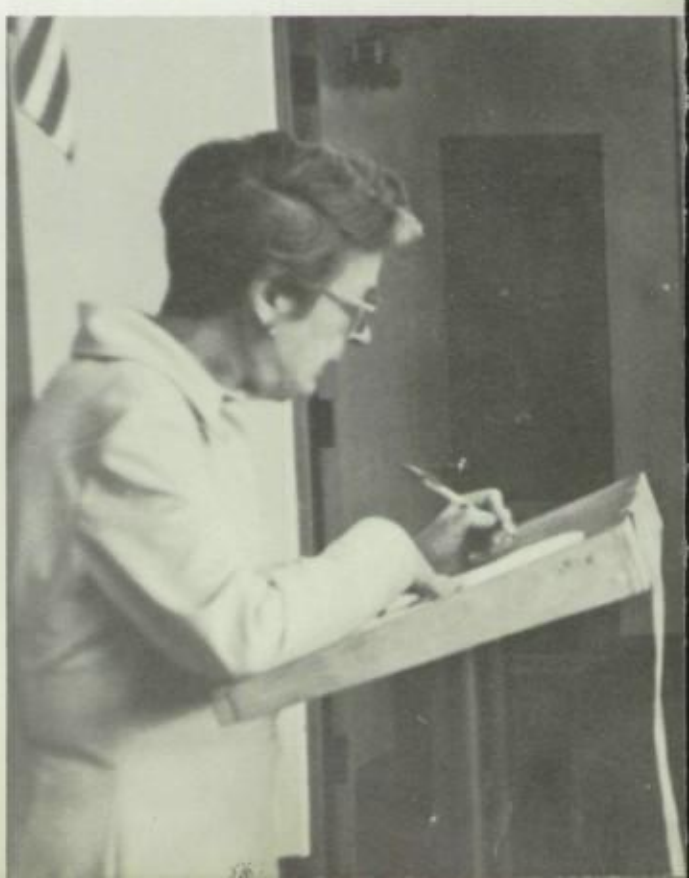
Miss Genevieve Winslow

Mrs. Mary Athan is the very talented and patient lady who keeps the high school office running smoothly. Mrs. Athan says that her newest hobby is her first grandchild, a grandson to be exact. When asked about him, she seems to be rather prejudiced, but that is understandable. Her message to the students is: please be punctual—she absolutely detests tardy slips!

This year, Sister Mary Carlann is teaching Religion 10, as well as several senior religion courses: Genesis II, C.C.D. Teacher-Training, and Marriage. Outside of teaching, her favorite interests include reading, writing, music, and keeping stats on sports. Most of all, Sister enjoys the students. One privilege that Sister particularly cherishes is being an Extraordinary Minister of the Eucharist in the years 1975-76 and 1979-80.

Miss Genevieve Winslow, who has been teaching here at Notre Dame for many years, now teaches American History and English 9. When asked what she enjoys most about NDA, Miss Winslow replied: "I like the friendly atmosphere and the most happy and cooperative faculty."





Mrs. Antoinette Newmann

Mrs. Marilyn Walsh

1. Senior Kari Wetzel watches as Mrs. Athan writes a receipt for her tuition.
2. Mrs. Newman and Olga Gonzalez are sharing a joke which appeared in a magazine.
3. Taking attendance before the start of class is Miss Winslow.
4. It seems as though this paper is 100% from the expression on Mrs. Walsh's face.

Need a book? A magazine article on a hard-to-find topic? Just ask Mrs. Antoinette Newmann, NDA's very own librarian, and she'll gladly help you. To make library work practical, Mrs. Newman also teaches a course for library assistants. One of Mrs. Newman's more memorable moments was the time a student told her to put a library fine "on her tab".

Often found in Room 306 working with the Royale staff is Sister Mary Llisa. In addition, Sister teaches pre-calculus, Honors Algebra I, and Church. A rather unusual experience happened this October during an earthquake: when Sister made a motion for the students to get away from the windows all 30 students congregated with her in the doorway.

As a teacher of American and British literature, Mrs. Marilyn Walsh also enjoys art History. She appreciates the academic atmosphere of the school and has an interest in watching any sports she can. Some of her other hobbies include sewing and reading.

This page is sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Kriste.

Keeping her students busy, studying all aspects of English is Mrs. J.G. Tyhurst. Her teaching schedule includes English 10, both the regular and the honors courses, and English 11. Her favorite pastimes include stitchery, sewing and cooking. Presently, Mrs. Tyhurst admits that her main interest is her husband. When asked about what she enjoys most about N.D.A.,

1. In this photo, Mrs. Tyhurst is giving her English II students an oral quiz.
2. This moment of mathematical concentration is brought to you by Mrs. Durkee.
3. Miss Moore watches some of the freshmen as they prepare to do some practice problems at the chalkboard.

Mrs. J.G. Tyhurst

Sister Mary Ste. Therese, S.N.D.

This page is sponsored by the friends of Notre Dame.

Mrs. Tyhurst replied, "I enjoy the freedom to teach what I choose!"

Sister Mary Ste. Therese is the current teacher of Latin II, government , world affairs, and Eastern/Western Non-Christian Religions. Sister enjoys learning about Southern California history in her free time. Her favorite extra-curricular activity is advising the Drama Club.

A new member of the faculty is Miss Bonnie Moore, who teaches algebra and geometry. She spends her spare time making rosaries, ballet dancing, drawing, reading, and swimming. Miss Moore said that she wished to thank all the students for making her days so enjoyable.

Mrs. Mary Durkee, teacher of geometry, both the honors and regular courses, and Algebra II loves to hear her students say "I like proofs". In her leisure, Mrs. Durkee may be found reading, working puzzles, or gardening.

One thing that is memorable for Miss Florence Meister, teacher of English 10, is the first day of the school year with all of its usual confusion. Her hobbies include swimming, gardening, and attending the theatre.

Mrs. Barbara Barnoski

Sister Mary Shelia, S.N.D.

Mrs. Nancy Nikodem

As the teacher of NDA's Advanced Placement course in English, Mrs. Barbara Barnoski spends much of her time helping the students prepare for the rigors of college English courses. One of her "extracurricular activities" this year is serving as the president of her parish council.

When Sister Mary Shelia is not involved in teaching her classes (American History, World History, Psychology, Developmental Psychology, and Sociology), she is most likely found pursuing her favorite hobby—learning! Sister Mary Shelia says that the thing she treasures most about the school is the family spirit which is so often experienced by both faculty and students.

A teacher of Art I, Mrs. Nancy Nikodem enjoys scuba diving in her spare time. She enjoys it so much, that she spent a New Year's Eve Party under water—she entered the water in 1979 and came out of the water in 1980!

Mrs. Jill Delaney

Mrs. Jill Delaney is one of the teachers who brings the "wonders of language" to the students at NDA. She teaches Spanish I, II, and the advanced placement course. Mrs. Delaney says that one of her most vivid memories of Notre Dame was being kidnapped: her AP Spanish class took her from school and gave her a Spanish party complete with a home-cooked meal.

1. Lisa Babilonia, a senior, is receiving some help from Mrs. Barnoski on an essay that Lisa had written.
2. Mrs. Nikodem shares some ideas with Joanie Gooley on her drawing.
3. The three members of the Social Studies Department have the upcoming Presidential elections in mind as they check on the campaign bulletin board. Shown in this picture are Miss Genevieve Winslow, Sister Mary Ste. Therese, and Sister Mary Shelia.
4. Favorite faces around NDA are these—Sister Mary Manetia and Sister Mary Selma who operate the food service in the cafeteria.
5. Mrs. Jill Delaney catches a moment of peace and quiet during the 5-minute break between classes.

A talented team makes varsity Queens look good

The varsity volleyball team has completed another season. This season has been an experience for the whole team. They worked hard for their final standings—fourth in the league. They practiced every day and learned new drills as well as reviewing the old ones. Through their tremendous effort and good team work, they showed that playing a good game is what it's all about.

Another successful season for the JV volleyball team

This year's junior varsity volleyball team had another winning season. They finished their season with a record of thirteen wins and one loss. The team attributes their success to the great coaching of Mrs. Vilija Karalius, sportsmanship, congeniality, and the ability to work together. With these qualifications next year's varsity team ought to be fantastic.

Sports activities keep Queens moving

Besides the usual league activities which the varsity and the junior varsity teams play in, the Queens participated in a variety of other athletic events. This included a "first" for NDA—a cross country meet, held on Saturday, December 1, and the St. Anthony's Basketball Tournament, held during January. Awards received at St. Anthony's include the following: Cathy Campbell ('80), first all-star team, Tina Alba ('80), second all-star team, and the spirit trophy awarded to the team, faculty and students for their support of the team.

NDA cheerleaders earn a trophy at USA's spirit camp

Cheering Notre Dame's way to victory are the cheerleaders Sue Scanlon, Patty Tapanes, Linda Scranage and Heidi Reusch, four very spirited students. During the summer, the cheering squad attended a cheerleading camp in Santa Barbara which was sponsored by the United Spirit Association. In competition at camp, the squad won a trophy and a ribbon for excellence, and two ribbons for superiority. The girls show their great enthusiasm, spirit and pep at each game, and the varsity and junior varsity teams depend on their support.

Notre Dame's flag team is making it once again!

The tune of the popular song "Makin' It" seemed to echo through Notre Dame as the members of the flag team diligently practiced their routine. Coached once again by baton twirler Patty Poduska, the team performed at volleyball and basketball games. Their routines were full of exchanges and difficult moves which the team executed marvelously, thus giving an exciting show. Their new uniforms added a spark to the talent they displayed throughout their many performances.

Basketball team strikes again!

Notre Dame's 1979-1980 basketball team is a talented group of loyal players. The team practices every weekday, whenever they are not playing league games. The team's coach is Philomena O'Donnell, who devotes an extreme amount of her time, and effort. J.V. basketball team learns team work

For about 1 ½ to 2 hours per week during the basketball season, the members of the junior varsity may be found practicing their sport. Their work-outs include running laps, stretching exercises, and improving their skills through lay-up drills and pass-up drills. The team is coached by Miss Phil O'Donnell, and her efforts in guiding them have helped them to be victorious. When asked what it is like to be on the team, one member commented, "It's fun, exciting and hard work; it's worth it because we learn how to work together as a team."

G.A.A. leads sports activities

The Girls Athletic Association sponsored a variety of activities this year, giving the students a chance to show their skill in many sporting events. Two other organizations which are a part of the G.A.A. are the Pep Club and the Lettergirls.

Projects of the G.A.A. included a scavenger hunt on Halloween, pep rallies before the opening game of each season, a badminton tournament, a ping pong tournament, volleyball doubles, and a basketball throwing contest.

A Tribute To The Queens' King

Take time to play, it is the secret of perpetual youth. Take time to love, it is the privilege of the Gods...No more fitting words could describe the Queens' King, Chuck Heyn. For years now, "Chuckie" has been part of NDA. He is a living legend. Quietly, imperceptibly, Chuckie was part of the crowd...for Notre Dame Day...for varsity games...just stopping by to say hello to his friends after school. He gave us a chance to take time, to share with him whatever it was that made our day special—it made his day special, too. In the midst of January, Chuckie was called by God to receive perpetual youth. Just as he lived, he quietly slipped away on January 14. For many years to come, there will be the empty corner in the stands...but Chuckie, the Queen's King, will be with us as one who took time to share his love.

Take time to work—
it is the price of success.

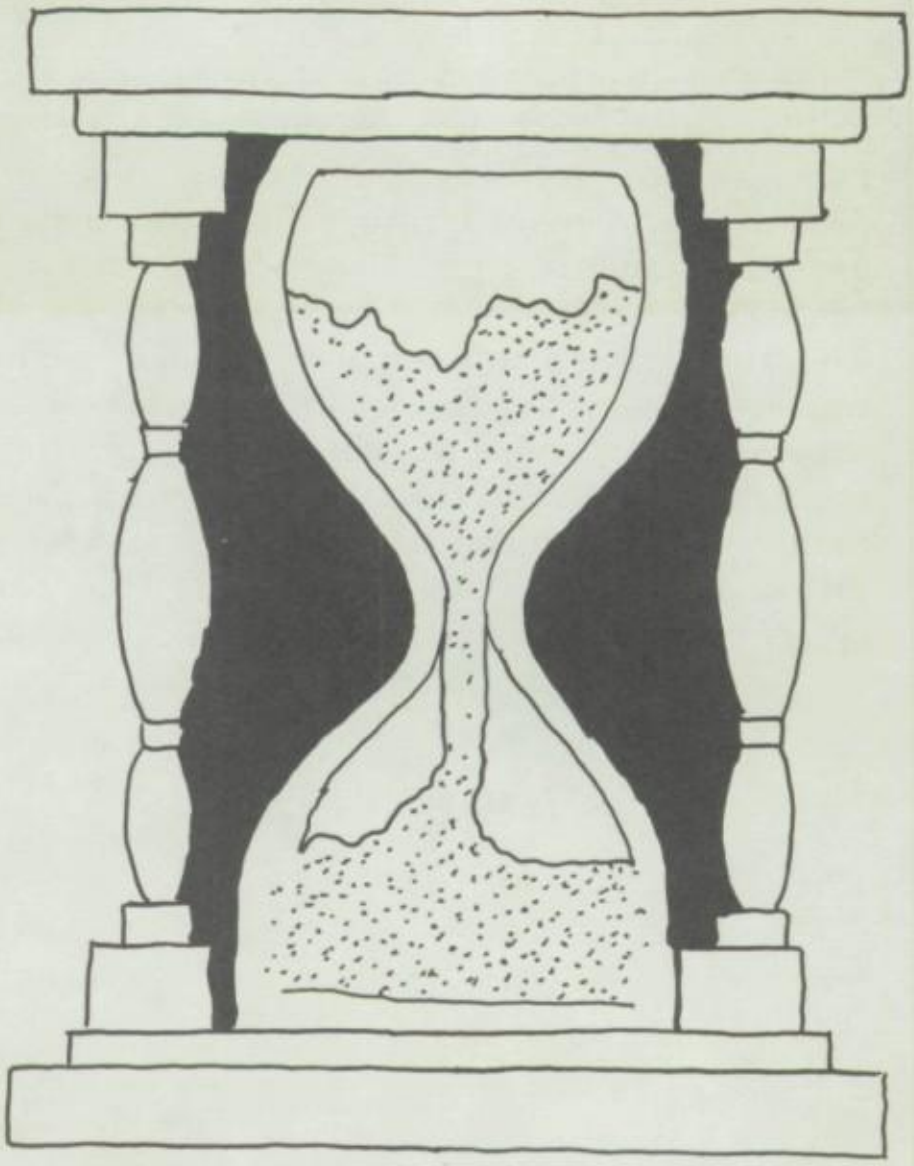
Any person who has been successful at an undertaking will give proof that success is dependent upon the time and energy put into the project. Whether it is an accomplished musician, a wealthy tycoon, or a student who scores on a very high level on the SAT, work cannot be replaced; it is the key to achievement.



Notre Dame goes Latin at annual fashion show

On October 28, 1979, the Notre Dame Guild had its annual fashion show at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel in Beverly Hills. Fashions were provided by Lanz of Century City, and they gave the audience a preview of the season. Under the direction of Miss Sue Gottenbos, the Choraliers gave a wonderful performance. There was also something special to this year's style show, students modeling costumes from around the world, especially from Latin America. Many thanks to all who contributed to the success of this affair, especially to Mrs. Violeta Hug, the chairwoman.

Liz Pleshe strikes again

It happened once again. The Notre Dame chocolate drive was a success. Two years ago, when Liz Pleshe was a freshman, she sold 16 boxes and won first place. As a sophomore, she overwhelmed the school by selling 21 boxes. Then the 1980 chocolate drive came around and Liz amazed everyone by selling 25 boxes to win first place in the drive for the third consecutive year. With the help of Liz and other high sellers and the cooperation of the entire student body, the school reached a total of 132% with homeroom standings ranging from 85% to 185%. The final class standings were: Seniors—109%, Sophomores—119%, Juniors—123%, and Freshmen—177%. Due to the fact that all four classes reached 100% the student body and faculty had a holiday on Tuesday, February 19. The profits from the chocolate drive went to a new public address system and a career computer.

Art schools reveal life as an art student

On February 4, Notre Dame's art students were given the opportunity to learn about two excellent art colleges from their respective admissions directors. Miss Catherine McLaughlin, representative of the Cleveland Art Institute, and Miss Clare Stafiere, of the Philadelphia College of Art, gave an hour-long presentation of the curriculum and environment of these two internationally known schools. Both schools emphasize personal growth in the student, both as an artist and a human being. Both offer majors in the graphic arts, industrial arts, and studio art, as well as many others, to provide a wide choice of possible career fields to their students.

It was a privilege and an honor to have these two women visit Notre Dame, and all of the art students greatly enjoyed and appreciated the opportunity to discover these outstanding schools.

Drama Club presents Children's Theatre

As always the Drama Club offered two plays for the school's aspiring actresses and for the enjoyment of all. The first one was "Once Upon a Clothesline," a delightful play for children. Although it was missed last year, Children's Theater has been almost a tradition for the Drama Club. Involved in this project were only the freshman and sophomore Drama Club members. This was to give them a chance to work on a play, since usually the more experienced upper-classmen are chosen for the main play in the spring. Rehearsals began in late fall and lasted throughout January. Then three performances in the gym were scheduled: a matinee and an evening show on January 18, and another matinee on January 21. The January 18 matinee was held especially for the younger students of Notre Dame Elementary School. The entire project was sponsored by the Drama Club.

The play is about a beautiful, golden-haired clothespin named Pinnette who falls off a clothesline. The evil black widow spider that lives nearby seizes the grand opportunity to kidnap the pin so that she can steal three of the golden hairs to make a golden web. However, a complication arises; should Pinnette lose any of her hairs, she would die. The hero Pinno, Pinnette's boyfriend, learns of this incident, and, enlisting the help of his many friends, he sets off to rescue his girlfriend. The rest of the play is about his daring efforts to rescue his love. Of course, as in any children's story, we have a happy ending as the hero emerges victorious.

Drama Club presents it all!

Notre Dame's Drama Club is noted for the outstanding stage productions that it presents. A different approach was used this year with the presentation of children's theatre, "Once upon a Clothes Line." The spring play was "Arsenic and Old Lace" directed by Mr. Hugh Morton. Under the leadership of Sister Mary Ste. Therese, the Drama Club works to create a variety of theatrical experiences, both for the club members and the student body.

Members of the Drama Club include:

Art Club inspires creativity in students

The Art Club is composed of a few members who sponsor such activities as field trips to museums and art exhibits; one of their other goals is to conduct worksessions in art after school for interested students. Under the leadership of Jackie Otero, president, the Art Club has inspired the creativity of the students. Various members of the art classes produced the art work shown on these two pages: the hand by Gloria Vela, the house by Lourdes Garcia, the plant design by Kari Wetzel, the horses by Karen Ambrose, the landscape by Melanie Piech, the elf-mouse by Barbara Wagner, the old man by Brittz Bald, the bicycle by Teresa Salamunovich, and the mouse by Anne Harriet.

LA REINA captures NDA life and spirit

La Reina shares the task of being one of Notre Dame's two journalistic publications. As the school newspaper, it is both informative and entertaining. Issued four times each year, La Reina has general stories, interesting facts and pictures, and focus articles.

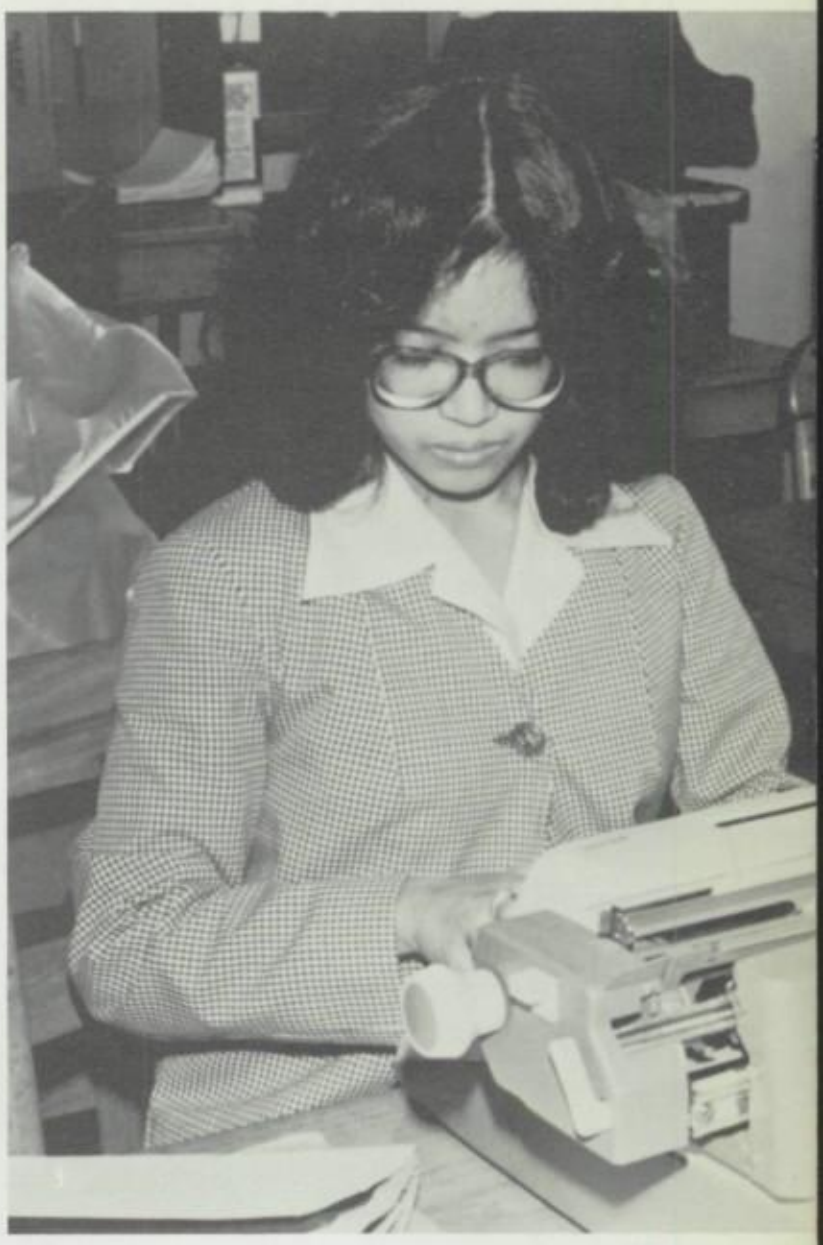
Aside from writing and editing articles, La Reina staff members attended journalism workshops.



1. Just before another staff meeting, Bonnie Abaunza does some last minute editing while editor Roselle Cespon and assistant editor Agnes Amores (in the background) decide what topics to cover in the next issue.
2. Roselle Cespon and Agnes Amores discuss the format of the newspaper.
3. Third page editor Landine Cespon prepares finished articles for publication.
4. Roselle Cespon helps sports page editor Bonnie Abaunza polish sentences in one of the articles.
5. Without these dedicated and hardworking people, the newspaper would not be possible. They are (back row) Barbara Dziuba, Marie Umali, Perla Guevara, Agnes Amores, and Bonnie Abaunza; (middle row) Landine Cespon, Jackie Menendez, Juli-Anne Davis and Kathy Schoen; (front row) Jan Shimaura, Olga Gonzalez, Roselle Cespon, and Juliet Szegedi. Missing from the picture is Carolyn Mitchell.

Team work does it!

The Deadline! Sister Mary Llisa, the Royale's energetic adviser, is out for her routine 3:30 coffee break. People are writing last-minute body copy and captions. The incessant pounding on the typewriter breaks the quiet. A deadline teaches students responsibility and teamwork—responsibility for the layouts they volunteered to do and the teamwork it takes to make it all come together. Special thanks go to: the "go-fers" who run around the school trying to name the unidentified in a photo; to Cathy Dix and Ann Boyd (editor and assistant editor) and Sister Mary Llisa who have at times argued a point beyond the point of no return; and to two people who have earned the right to be called masters of their respective fields—Landine Cespon, Doctor of Cop(y)opetry, and Christine Fletcher, Head of the Emergency Art Ward.

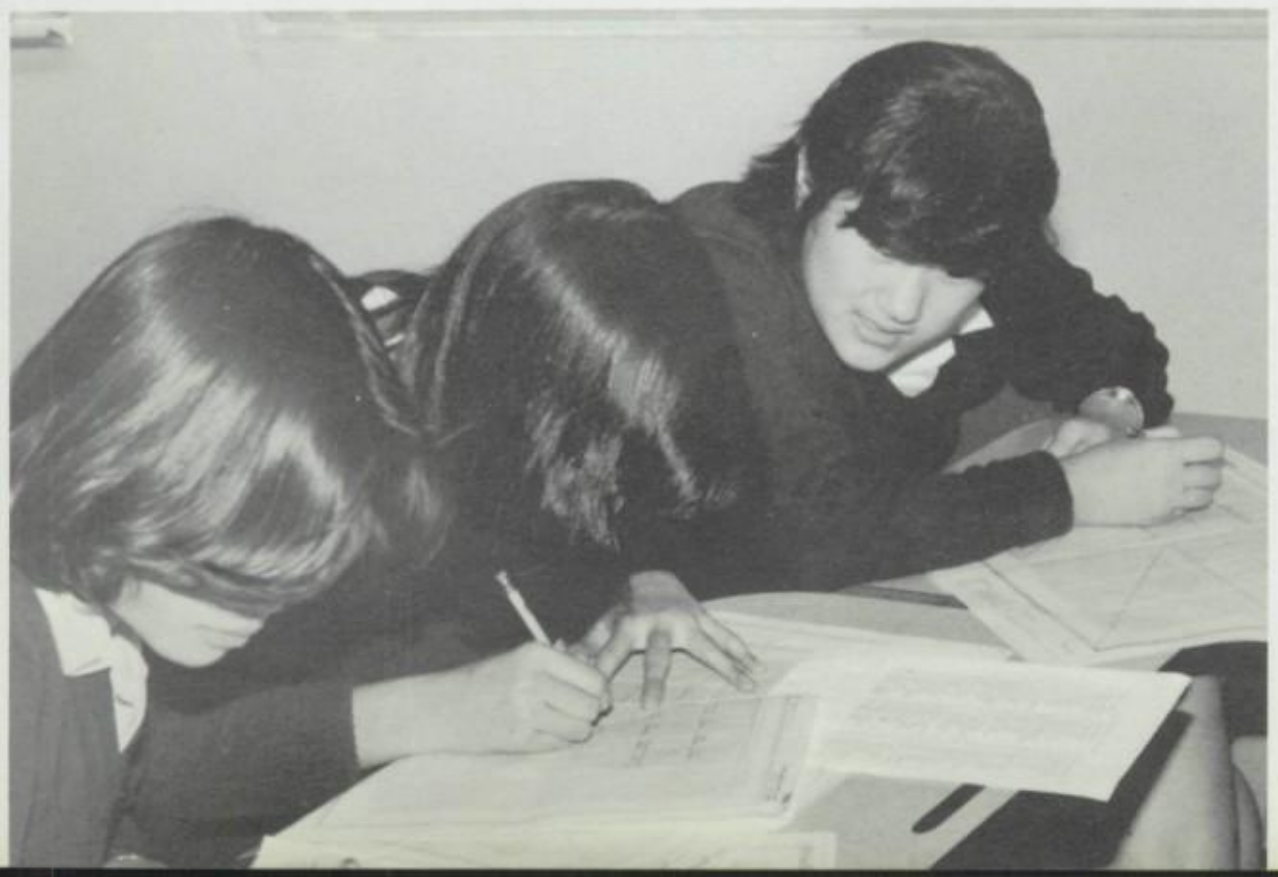
"DEADLINE?! WHAT DEADLINE!?!!"



1. Intent on their work (chaos)...Patty Vogt, Rosa Romero and Daphne del Rosario try to organize the photos on their layout.
2. During the summer, Landine Cespon went to University of California at San Diego for a yearbook seminar sponsored by Southern California Scholastic Publications.
3. Some friendly advice...Helping each other is part of being a member of Royale. Here, Allison Hassler gives Mylene Recto some tips on writing captions.
4. Pencils in hand, Mylene Recto, Daphne del Rosario and Mary U make the last minute corrections on their layouts.
5. Receiving recognition for being a yearbook advisor, Sister Mary Llisa receives the Certificate of Appreciation from Sister Mary La Tier.

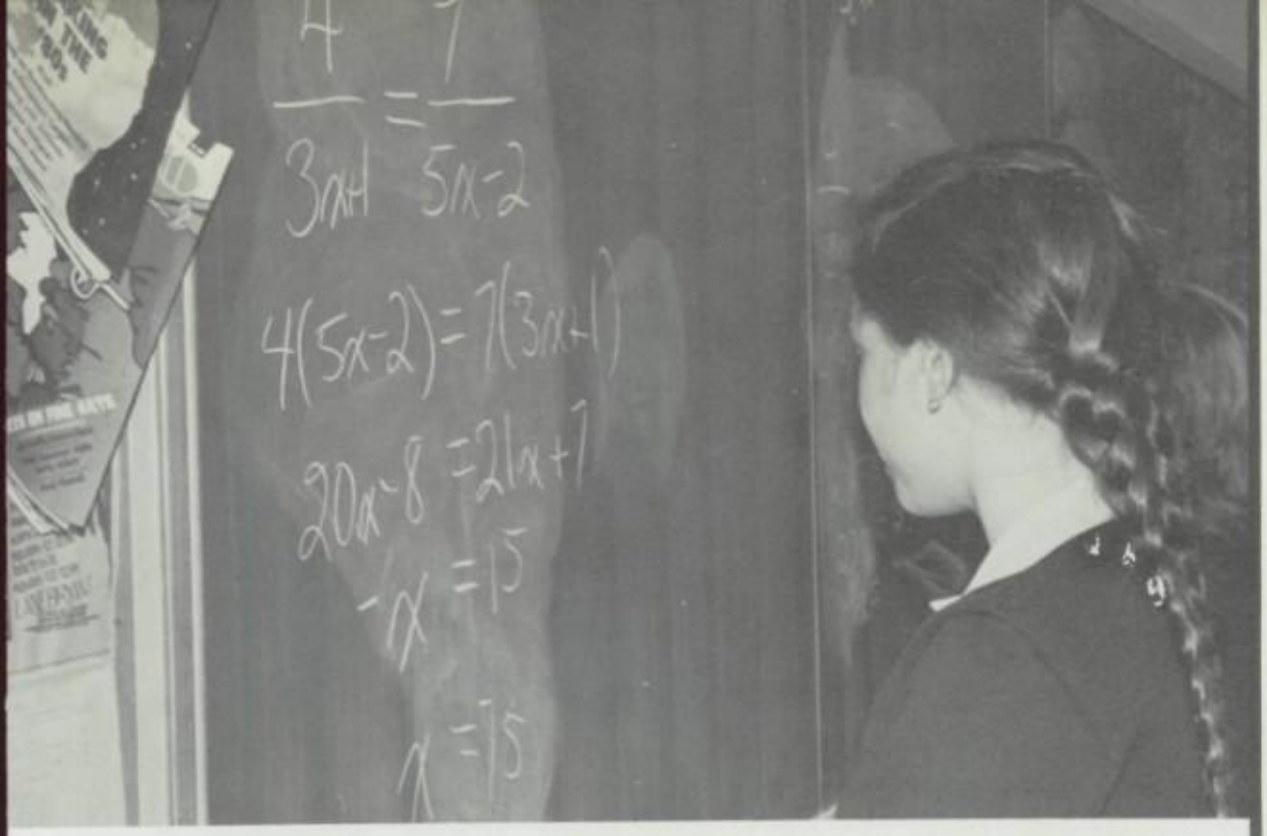
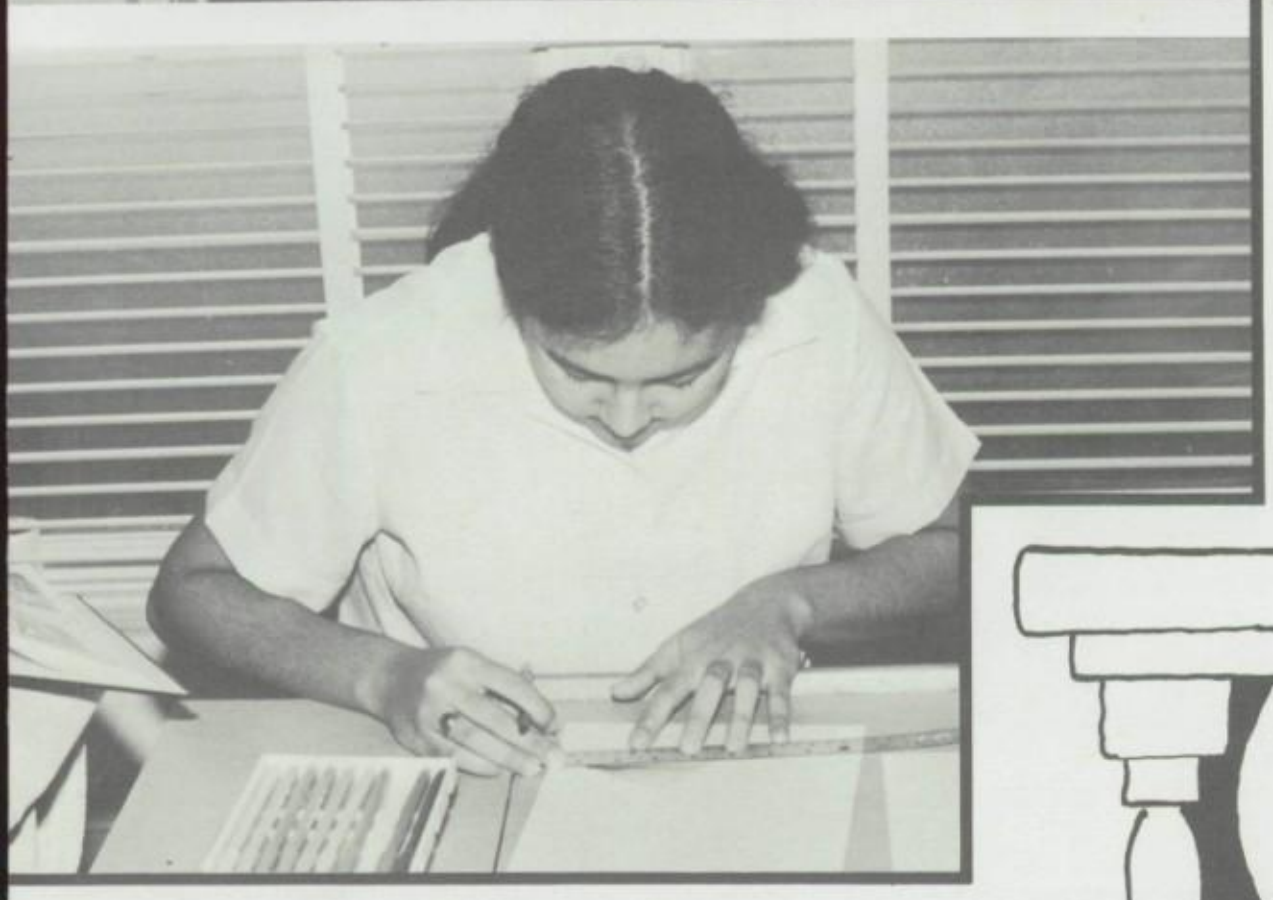
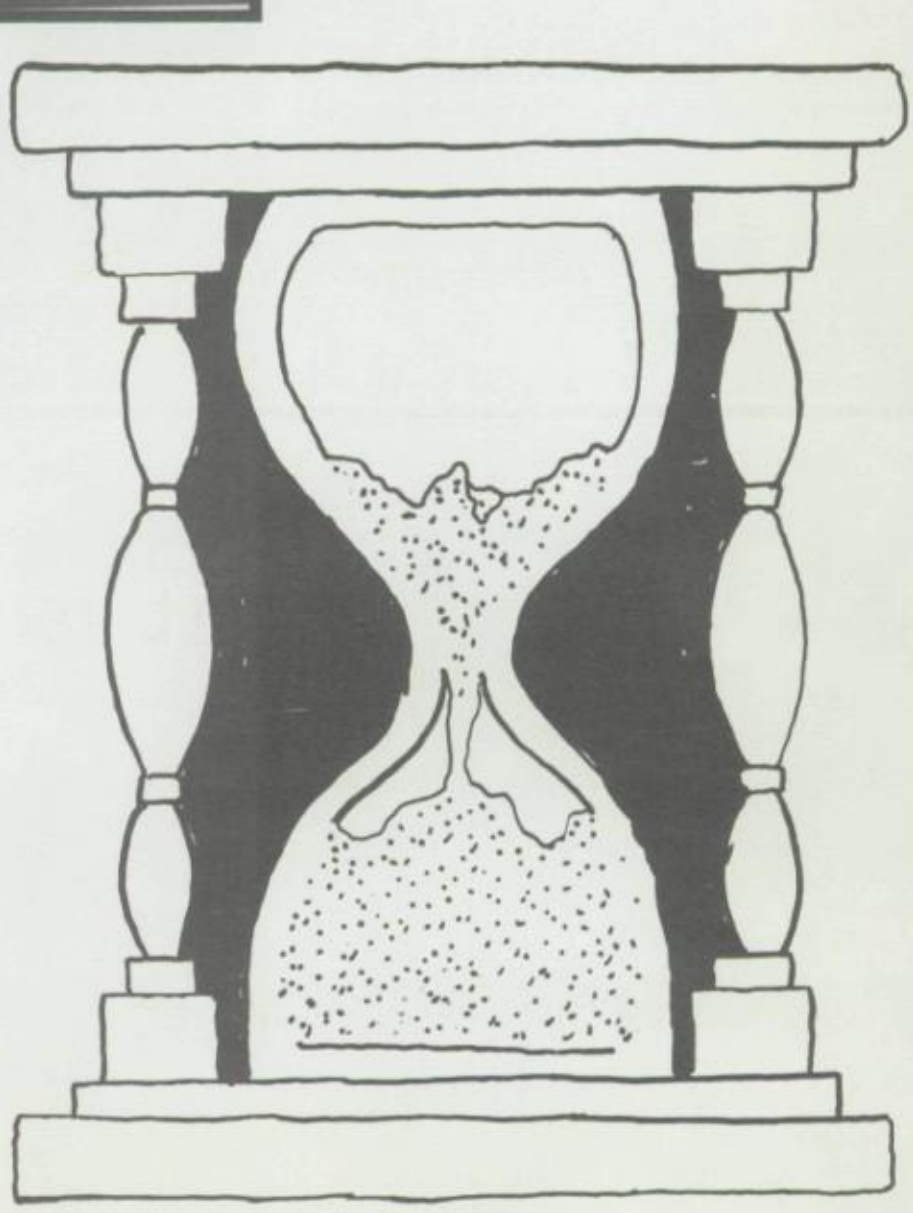
it is the source of power.





1. An unidentifiable student gains new skills in reading techniques during the READWRITE course offered in the fall.
2. Freshman Karen Sorey adjusts her Advent banner, which depicts the Ten Commandments.
3. Monique Heyninck quietly checks the calculations she has completed at the chalkboard.
4. An avid artist, Lisa Babilonia is shown adjusting some measurements on her paper as she begins a new project.



It does not take a student long to realize that thinking skills are the key to success in education. The tremendous God-given gift of the mind distinguishes men and women from other creatures. It is the key to creativity, to scientific progress, to the realization of true values. And thinking is what the academic world—school—is all about.

Each NDA student has a unique opportunity to grow spiritually through the religion curriculum, which consists of required courses and electives for juniors and seniors. The courses range from a study of the Bible to a survey of the various Christian religions.

This year, a new course was offered for seniors. Genesis II, a quarter-course taught by Sister Mary Carlann, provided many activities for both psychological and spiritual growth. It gave the seniors a chance to be in touch with themselves, with their classmates, and with God. In evaluating the course, Sister Mary Carlann stated that it was a terrific preparation for the senior retreat; it encouraged the seniors to regroup themselves and as a result, their acquaintances were greatly expanded.

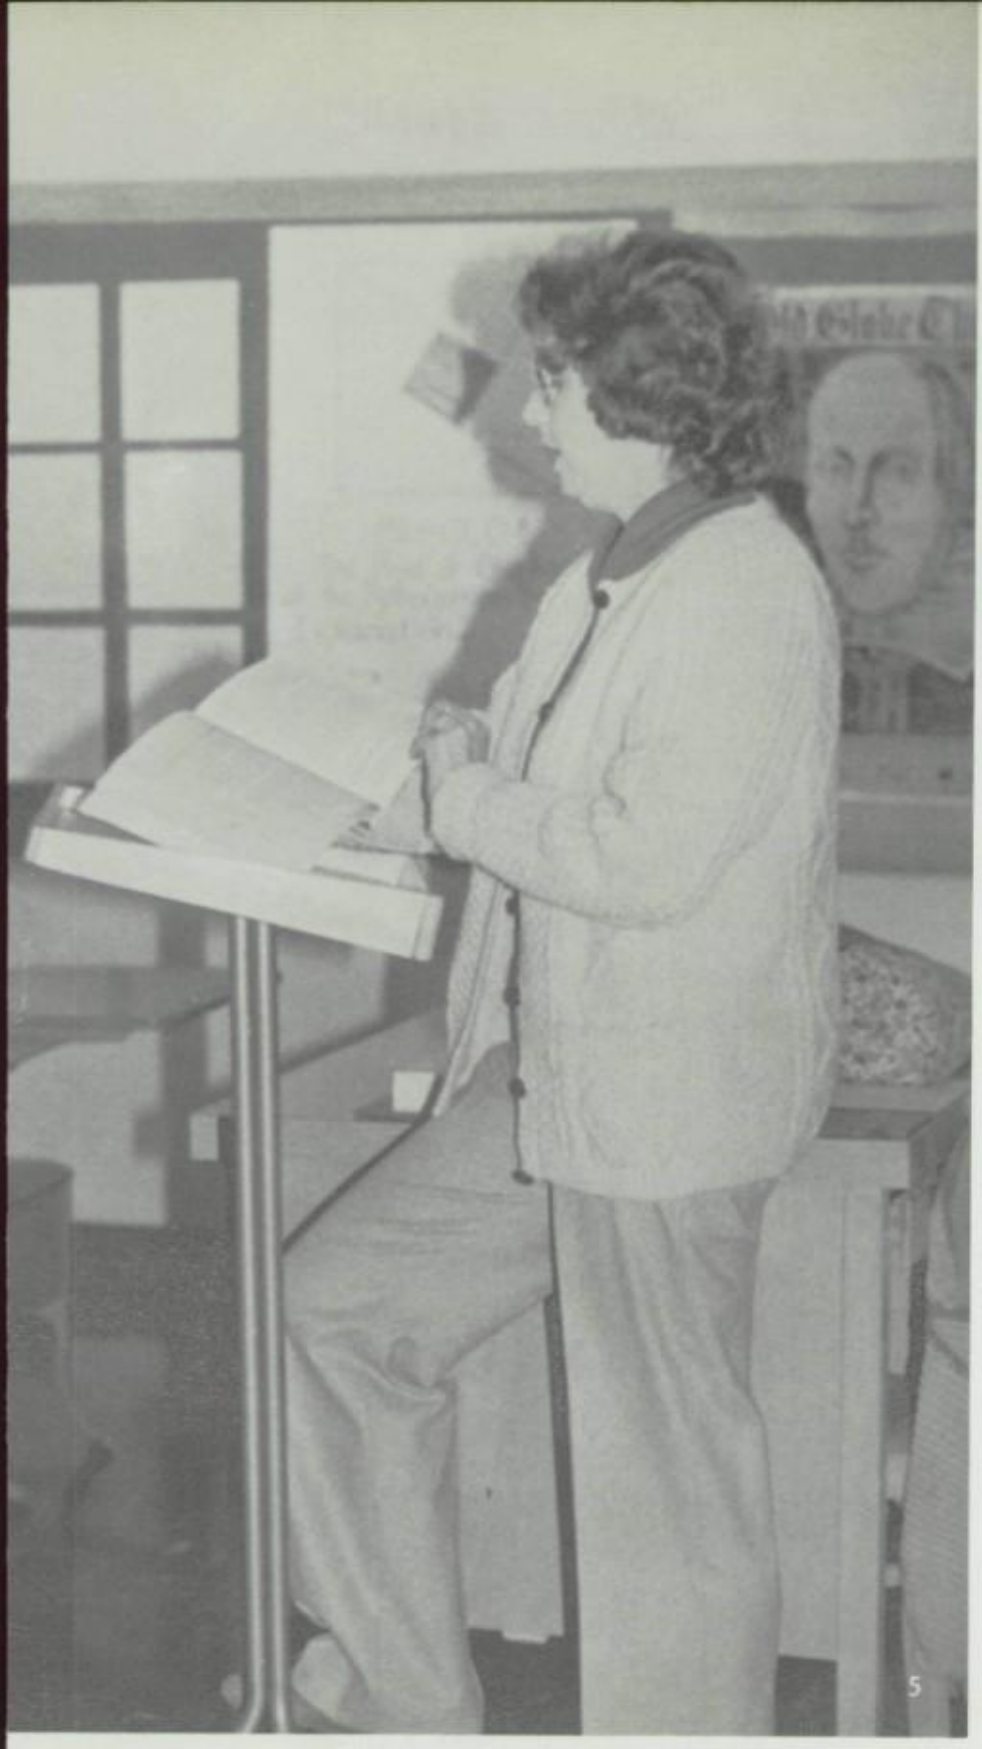
The Social Studies Department combines the cultural, political, historical and economic aspects of civilization in the courses offered: American history, world history, government, psychology, developmental psychology and sociology. A new course offered this year was World Affairs which helps the students understand the core problems which cause the events of the day.



Notre Dame's English Department provides the students with the opportunity to study different types of literature. During their four years, the students review the idiosyncrasies of English grammar, develop an extensive vocabulary, and delve into the literature of the United States and England. Electives are also available to the students: a course in speech and a course in mass media.

1. Andrea Mugler, Katie Parr and Anne-Marie Mazzarella apparently have found what they were looking for in the library.
2. Jackie Otero, Madeline Perez and Inez Rodriguez discuss the terms to be known for a government test.
3. Kate Plourde and Mary LaHickey look over some maps that they are studying for their world history class.
4. These freshmen are reviewing some of the important persons, places and events that they have studied in world history.
5. Mrs. Marilyn Walsh discusses the correct answers to the homework exercises that her English class completed.
6. One of the new techniques that Christina Hawkes learned in the READWRITE class is helping her as she reads a book for English.
7. In a senior English class, Mrs. Roth calls the class to attention.

Physical education is one way that Notre Dame students keep their bodies as fit as their minds. The basics of many sports are explained and demonstrated for the students; these sports include volleyball, basketball, soccer, badminton and gymnastics. It also teaches good sportsmanship, not only for sports, but in other areas of life. Freshmen especially learn to work well with each other and to help each other.

To prepare the students for the business world, especially for their own use, Typing, Notehand, and Personal Finance courses are available. In typing, the students learn to use the basic keyboard and work to develop good speed and accuracy. Learning to balance a checkbook, buy a car and keep financial records are only a few of the many skills acquired in personal finance.

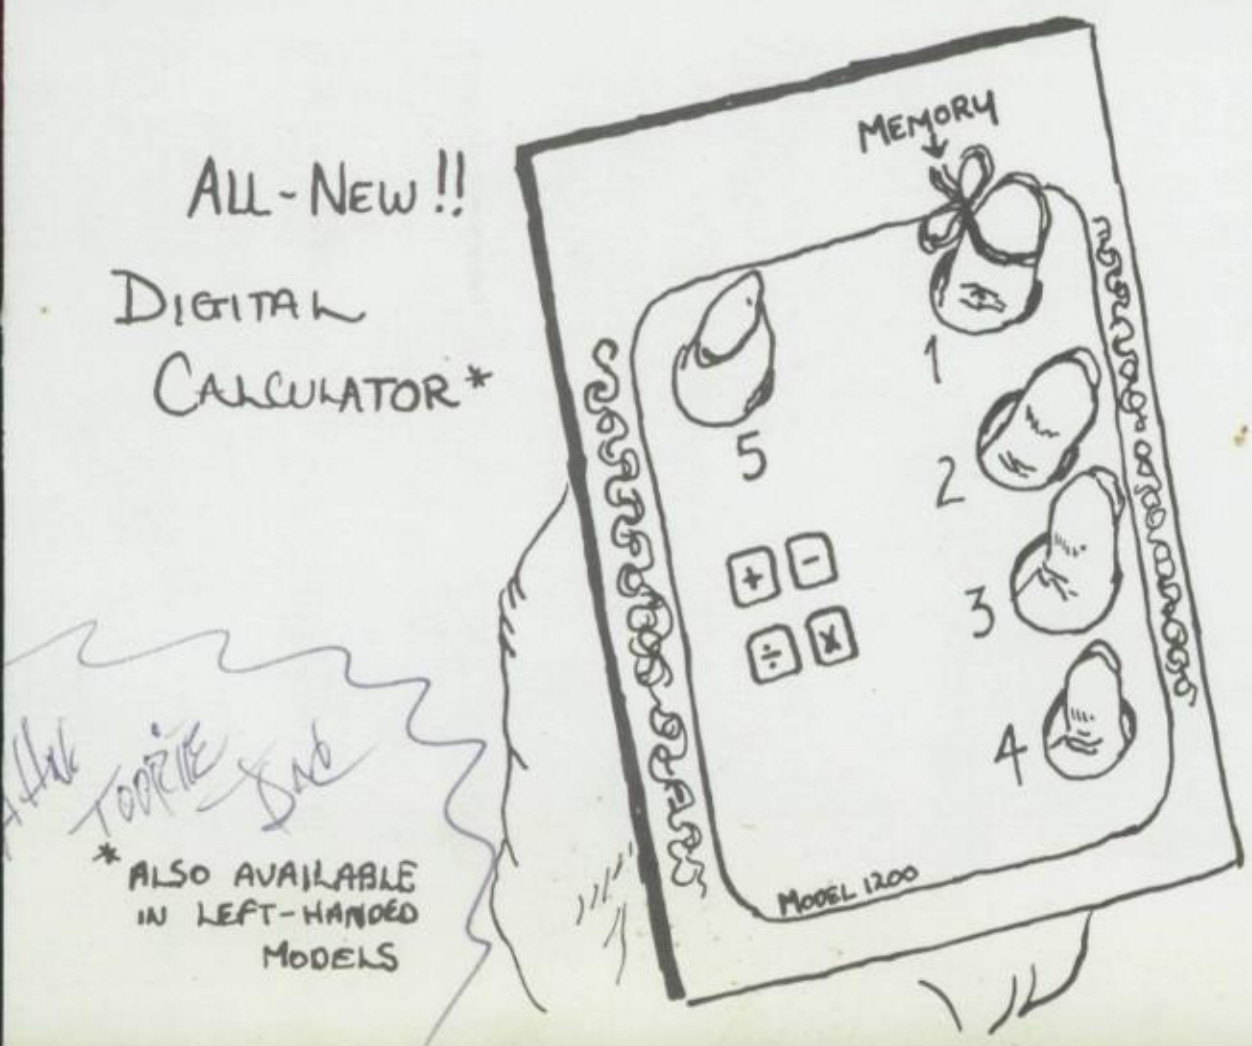
DISCO'S DEAD - TURN ON LED

Math is a very important subject here at Notre Dame, for it teaches students to think clearly and logically. The student who comes from elementary school with an excellent background may enroll in the honors courses in Algebra and Geometry. Regular courses are also available. Those students who plan to pursue a scientific field of study in college usually take Algebra II and Pre-Calculus.



1. Lisa Castro struggles valiantly to complete that one... last...sit-up...
2. Mrs. Karin Peterson advises her typing class on correct spacing.
3. A UFF (Unidentified Flexible Freshman) known only by her black-striped tennies, is captured in this rare photo.
4. Arminia Agoncillo concentrates on her typing exercise.
5. Patty Erb uses her calculator to verify her figuring of the values of a trigonometric function.
6. Nancy Mantalos revises her math homework before class.
7. Tamiko Henry records the answer to a pre-calculus equation.

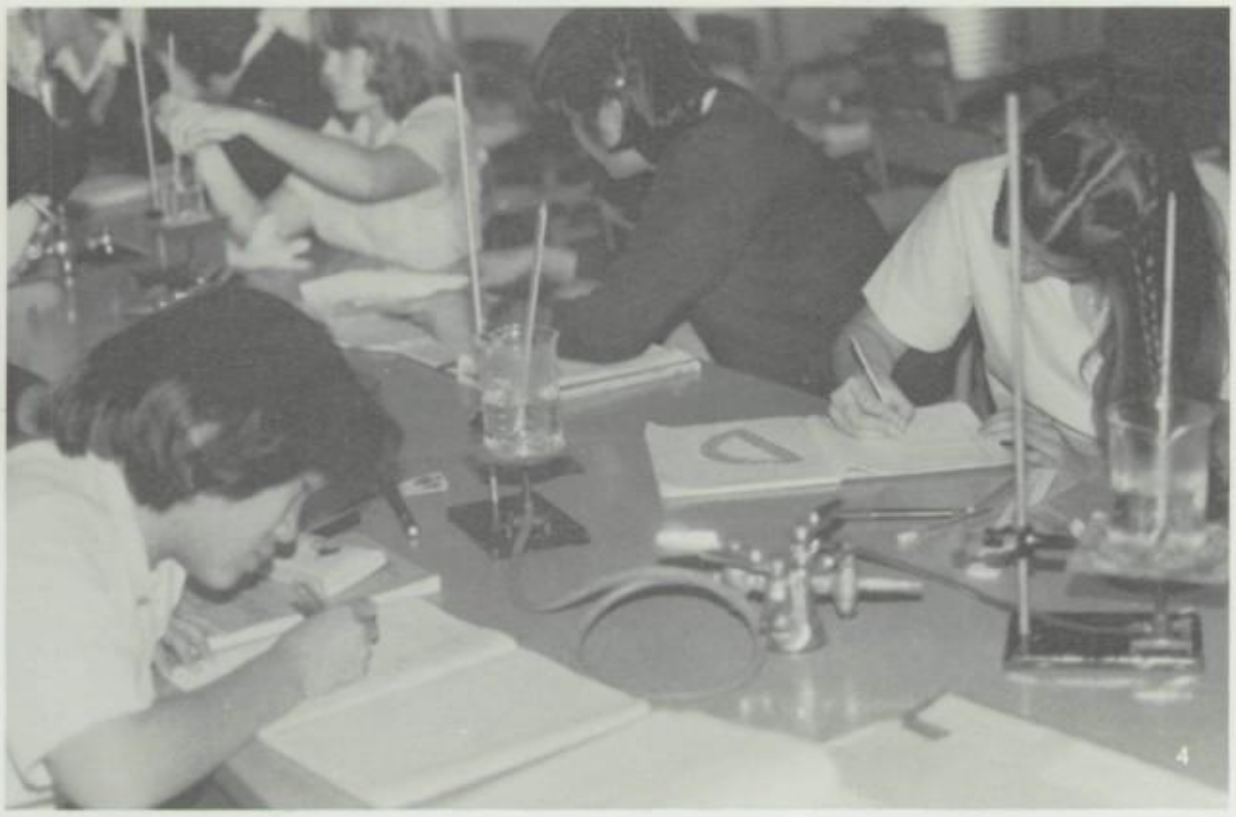
The atmosphere of the Art Room is always creatively productive and in a constant pace as the students work to finish one problem or have another graded. Under the close supervision of Sister Mary St. Ann and Mrs. Nancy Nikodem, the art students have the opportunity to develop their talents in various art forms, such as ceramics, graphic arts, calligraphy, contour drawing and three-dimensional art. The Art Department not only aids the students in expanding their talents, but also opens the door to possible art careers.



1. Judilyn Powers and Maura Sheehan are busily trying to place their design correctly on the paper.
2. Molly Earle stands by as Sister Mary St. Ann adjusts a silk screen.
3. Gina Hermann is totally involved in painting her Christmas ornaments.
4. Debbie Ikeda, Mary U and Maria Wrzensinki are bent over their lab books trying to record (neatly) their data.
5. Kathy Howlett helps Sandy Moro figure out a tough problem in the chemistry lab.
6. Helen Kim and Yvette Jasik check the accuracy of the water level in their beaker.

As the world becomes increasingly aware of its need to conserve natural resources, new fields are opening in the world of science. Using the skills and knowledge which they learned in Introductory Physical Science, Biology, Chemistry and Physics, many students will continue to study science in such fields as geology, nuclear physics, or other scientific fields of the future.

Another branch of the fine arts curriculum at Notre Dame is the Music Department. The students have the opportunity to learn music theory and to develop vocal skills. The two choral groups perform for public audiences several times each year and the students' trained voices help to make the student body Masses meaningful.

The Foreign Language Department provides N.D. girls with the chance to become fluent in French and Spanish to develop a working knowledge of Latin. The Advanced Placement program in French and Spanish allows the students to receive college credit for the work that they do in high school. With the increased emphasis being placed on fluency in more than one language, N.D. students have a wider and better range of fields to explore.

The Sealbearers: up close and personal

C.S.F.—A unique group

One of the more elite clubs at Notre Dame is the California Scholarship Federation (C.S.F.). The club is different from most others because one does not join by simply signing up; one must earn membership. Entrance to C.S.F. is gained by receiving a certain amount of points on semester report cards. Three points are awarded for an A and one point is awarded for a B. If a student is taking five solids, a total of ten points is required. Those students who are C.S.F. members for four semesters of senior high school, one of them in her senior year, receive a seal on the diploma and are life members of the federation. At the end of the first semesters of the 1979-1980 school year, there were 10 sealbearers in the Class of 1980.

3. Juniors and seniors who are members of the C.S.F. include (back row) Michelle Mazzarella, Suzanne Toller, and Karen Ambrose; (second row) Maria Petrelli, Jeanette Briscoe, Christine Heyninck and Patty Poduska; (third row) Terry Sadowski, Peggy O'Donnell, Inez Rodriguez, Zoraya Falah, Chris Fletcher, Brigitte Lockner, Patty Erb (kneeling), Stacy Fay, and Olga Gonzalez; (fourth row) Nancy Mantalos, Deena Merrill, Barbara Dziuba, Sylvia Tronci, Patty Tapanes, Diane Nuno, and Winnie Lung.

Now for a look at the first-semester sealbearers . . .

The C.S.F. President for 1979-80 was Eve Szurley. During her senior year, Eve took two classes at UCLA and has plans to become a lawyer and to do some acting on the side. To Nancy Mantalos, history and pre-law seem to be interesting fields for future study. Nancy plans to attend Stanford and to continue on to law school, where she wants to study criminal law. Suzanne Toller also has her eyes on a future in law. She wants to be a lawyer after she finishes studying English at the University of California, San Diego.

As Drama Club President, Stacy Fay surprsed no one when she decided that she wanted to study in the field of liberal arts. Another student with an interest in drama is Michele Mazzarella. Michele showed her interest by being an active member of the Drama Club; she plans to study international relations because she enjoys meeting people, an aspect of life that came in very handy as she fulfilled her office of A.S.B. President.

Zoraya Falah has already begun working for her career goal. Zoraya wants to study languages in college and then to work for the United Nations. During her senior year, Zoraya took advanced placement courses in Spanish, French and English, while also taking a class in Arabic outside of school. Another student with an interest in languages is Patty Erb, who plans to study at San Diego State and hopes to teach in foreign countries after she finishes school.

In addition to being A.S.B. Treasurer and a member of the basketball and volleyball teams, Peggy O'Donnell has an interest in computers. Peggy wants to study electrical engineering and she looks forward to a good job in this area after graduation from college. Winnie Lung is also interested in electrical engineering; she stated that modern technology is an evergrowing field and she wants to be a part of it. Biomedical engineering appeals to Diane Nuno. Diane hopes to pursue a health-oriented career, and plans to attend optometry school after she graduates from California State University, Long Beach.

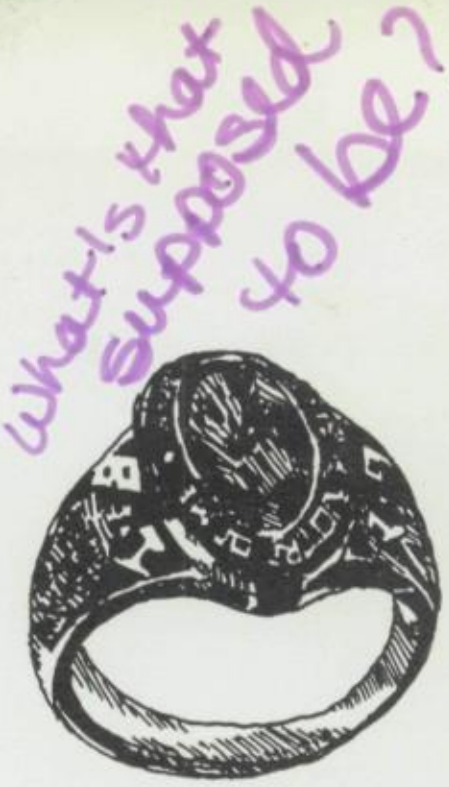
According to the words of Christ, a person may be identified as his follower if that person loves others. It is such a good feeling to know that others care; it is this particular characteristic which distinguishes a Catholic school from others, and NDA in particular. The students and faculty readily share whatever they can—prayers for someone in need, spare coins for the missions, a willing ear to someone who is lonesome. And in return, the family spirit reigns—the spirit of Christ.

For a number of years, one person has helped the Juniors to organize their ring ceremony. Again this year, Sister Mary Ste. Therese contributed her considerable experience to make this ceremony a memorable occasion. In realization of this, the Class of '81 thanks Sister for all of her help.

Class of '81 celebrates the annual Junior ring ceremony

One of the brightest highlights for each Junior Class is their ring ceremony. On November 15, the members of the Class of 1981 received their class rings, and so, each of them was officially accepted as upperclassmen. The rings are also a symbol of class unity and school pride. True, each is a student of Notre Dame as the ring shows, yet the ring also represents the individuality of each girl. This is evident through the different styles and personalized features, such as a student's name engraved inside the ring.

Although in the past years the ceremonies have been more elaborate, this year's Ring Day was special in that it was dedicated to the Blessed Virgin. The rings were blessed by Father Jim Forsen, who celebrated Mass for the Juniors. This day will live on in the hearts and minds of the Class of 1981 for many years to come.



1. Joyful smiles abound as Lisa Babilonia and Teresita Arichea present Michelle Willoughby with her ring.
2. At the Mass preceding the ceremony, the Juniors were given the privilege of receiving the body and blood of Christ at the Eucharist. Here, Jeanette Briscoe accepts the chalice offered by Yvette Jasik.
3. Sylvia Cortez and Karen Lichter happily admire each other's rings as they return to their seats.
4. Two freshmen, Trish Majidian and Debbie Johnson hold the decorated arch over Our Lady. As the Juniors went to the stage to receive their rings, they placed carnations given to them by the freshmen before Our Lady to dedicate the ceremony to her.
5. Perla Guevara and Pam Agoncillo are twisting each other's rings—the custom is to have one's ring turned 81 times (because it is the Class of 81) and this brings good luck.
6. Father Jim Forsen offers Holy Communion to Deena Merrill and Yvette Jasik, two girls who were appointed Extraordinary Ministers of the Eucharist for the special Mass.

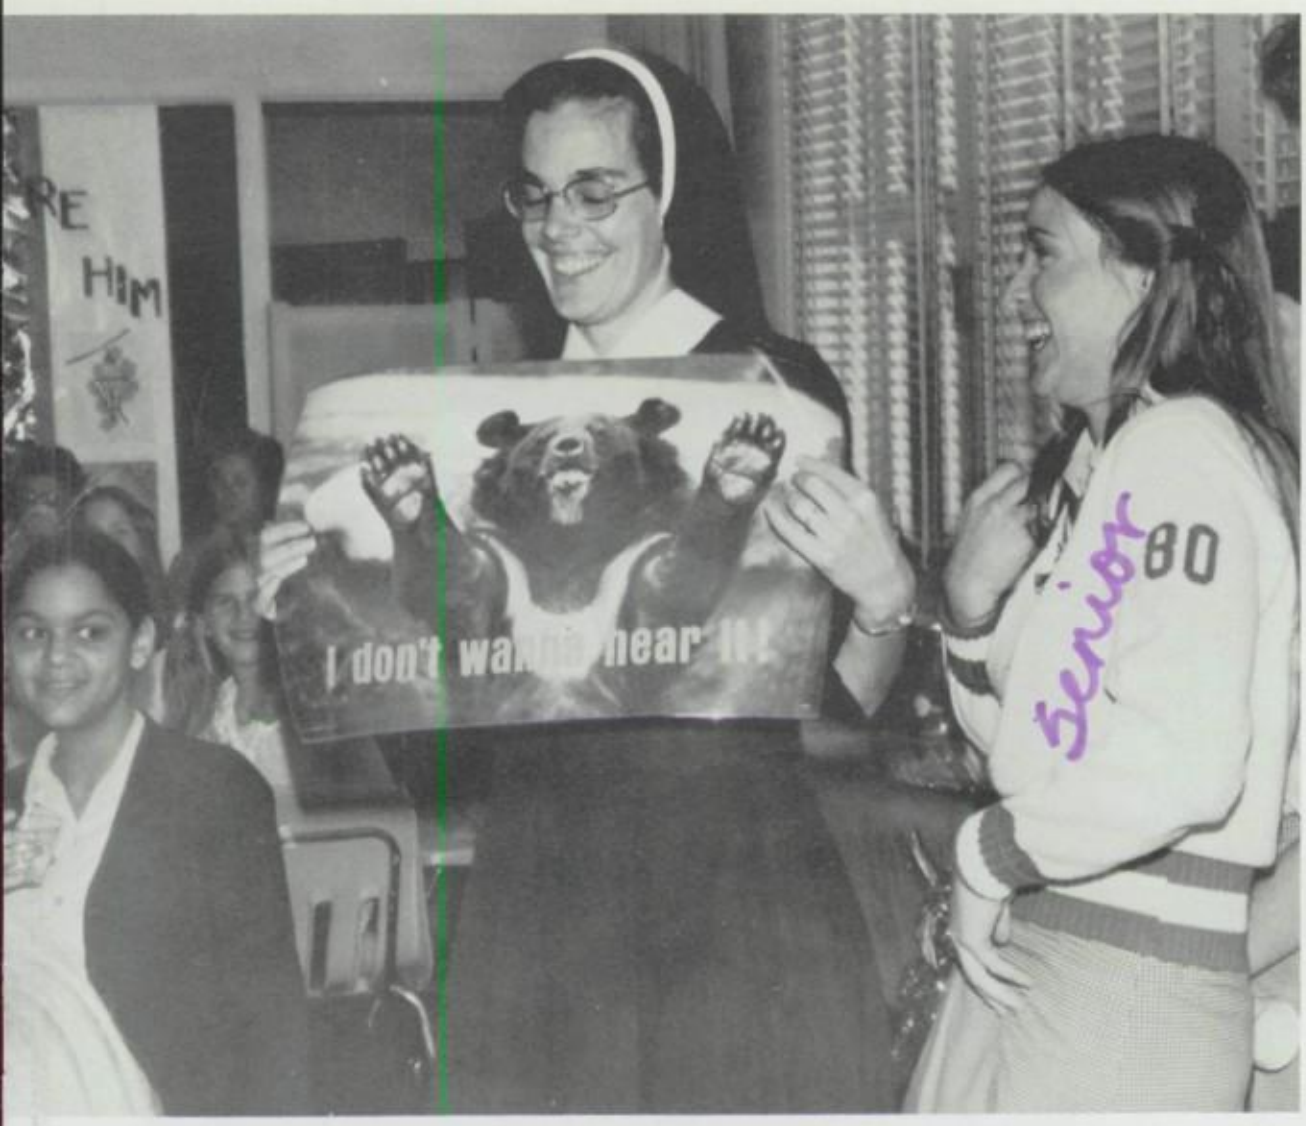
Student Council hosts faculty Christmas party

On Monday, December 17, 1979, the Student Council and the Student Activities Council sponsored the faculty Christmas party. It was a gala occasion for both the faculty and the students, with a wide variety of Christmas treats. Each faculty member received the special gift of spending an hour or so with the Student Council in a very relaxed atmosphere. Another special treat was a great variety of holiday foods which were prepared by the students (and their mothers).

The faculty agreed that the students were to be commended for all of their efforts—the beautiful decorations, the thoughtful gifts, and sharing the gift of themselves.

This page is sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. A.M. Fernandez.



1. For several days before the party, Student Council members worked after school wrapping gifts for the faculty. In this picture are freshmen Patti Vogt and Betina Doerr.
2. Sister Anna Maria smiles as she has just unwrapped her gift—a bulletin board for her office.
3. Student Government Adviser Sister Gina Marie seems unsurprised over the poster which the Student Council members presented to her. The reason that they choose this particular saying is that she has been known to say it rather frequently.
4. Basketball coach Philomena O'Donnell seems to be having a good time.
5. Sister Mary St. Ann and Karen King chuckle over an anecdote.
6. Liz Pleshe, Mission Club President, is quite interested as Sister Mary La Tier shows her the Sunday Missal which Sister received from the students.

Notre Dame's choral groups sing in the joyful season

Friday, December 12, 1979, brought a fine evening for the "Joy of Christmas", Notre Dame's own choral concert. The performance was given in the gym from 8:00 to 9:30 P.M. by three choral groups: the Choraliers, the Concert Choir, and the Ensemble. It was the first musical event of the school year and was the Choraliers' first performance as a group. The choral members prepared for this concert long in advance. Under the direction of Miss Sue Gottenbos they practiced in class, before school, and after school. Their many hours of work were well worth the effort, as a good audience noted the day of the concert. Accompanied by four talented pianists, Rosa Bravo, Stephanie Nelson, Susie Papet, and Jon Miller, the choral groups gave beautiful performances. The concert was certainly a lovely way to get into the true Christmas spirit-peace, love, and the birth of Christ Jesus.

Christmas time means good times with friends

Celebrating the Christmas season was memorable at Notre Dame's annual Christmas dance, "Mistletoe Magic" which was sponsored by the Student Council. The dance was held on December 19 from 8:00 p.m. until midnight. Santa's elves helped serve cookies and punch in the cafeteria, while couples took a break from dancing. The gym was beautifully decorated with Christmas trees, garlands and colorful lights. All in all, it was a time for sharing the holiday spirit with friends.

Mothers, daughters share fun

On Wednesday, February 13, the second annual Mother-Daughter Night was held and it attracted mothers, daughters and grandmothers. Upon entering the gym both mothers and daughters received a red or white heart. The hearts signified to which of two groups the family would belong. One group played a game called whoopee in the cafeteria, while the other group remained in the gym and popular television shows were mimicked, with mothers and daughters playing as teams. The games were Generation Gap and Female Feud. Following the various games, refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

1. Anne and Donna Cervanek congratulate each other after they successfully answered a question about Anne—both had the same answer.
2. The chuckles here seem to be saying that mothers are always right.
3. Tooting the horn became a real challenge during the Female Feud game. Erin Sullivan acted as the moderator, and her mother, Monica Sullivan, served as the scorekeeper. In this photo, Cynthia Vazquez and Danna DellaRocca try their best to win. (P.S. THE DAUGHTERS WON ONE AND THE MOTHERS WON ONE.)
4. Tricia Kennedy guessed that her mother finds it difficult under the circumstances so written.
5. A little game of whoopee brings out the whoopee in everyone.
6. No, Anne-Marie Mazzarella and her mother, Pat Mazzarella are not professional dice-throwers. Just a friendly game of whoopee.

Sharing love makes Valentine joy!

Showing love to others was the theme of Valentine's Day. Both the freshmen and juniors had planned a party for the other class, so it make a super-merry lunch period. The big and little sisters expressed their friendship by exchanging gifts of candy and flowers. Another big event of lunch period was the Mission Coin Relay Race. At first the sophs and frosh were battling neck and neck with the seniors and juniors very close behind. The sophs proved victorious, but the seniors were also credited with donating the most money.

Sharing the Valentine fun are
1. Maggie Gonzales and Alicia Brass
2. Kathy Brundo and Andrea Mugler
3. Karen Ambrose and Lupe Barragan
4. A happy group of sophomores: Alison Hassler, Debbie Sweeney, Cindy Bebb, Pam Hoffman, Paula Morris, Heidi Reusch, and Erin Sullivan.
5. Screaming always encourages victory in a relay race—Carol Pesantes is encouraging the frosh and is ready to run with he coin.
6. Judy Padilla and her little sister Carolyn Mitchell share the joys of the party.

Mission Club leads Queens to donate

The students of Notre Dame Academy distinguish themselves by supporting the missions. Through various fund-raising activities sponsored by the Mission Club, large sums of money were contributed during the year. Each student is asked to donate $10.00, and a NDA MISSION SPIRIT pennant is received. For any student who contributes $20.00, the gold and brown NOTRE DAME SPIRIT pennant is awarded. Under the outstanding leadership of Liz Pleshe, president, Britta Steinbrenner, vice-president and Nancy Lem, secretary-treasurer, the Mission Club had an outstanding year. Activities included a Mission Awareness Week in March, a coin relay race, bake sales, and crazy coin days.

Queens share time, talent with others

As part of the tradition of Notre Dame Academy, the students participate in a wide variety of Christian Service activities throughout the year. Until this year, there was a course in Christian Service which juniors and seniors could take. This year, all Christian Service projects have been coordinated through the Student Council, Kathy Howlett being the Commissioner of Christian Service.

To Denise
How'z it going for me, I doing fine. I had a really nice time knowing & meeting you this year at N.D.
Hope we're in more classes next year. Have some more parties and make them on the day I could come!
Anyway, have a nice summer and good luck in everything.
Love,
Bernadette

wonderful (smile)

Finishing its second successful year, the Christian Service branch of the Student Council has been active in keeping NDS students aware of community needs. This year, Christian Service Commissioner Kathy Howlett stressed the importance of getting more students involved in community projects. Successful activities included a Valentine's Day visit to Nazareth House in Culver City and a great number of students participating in the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon. Each individual class was also responsible for a special project.

In addition, the Junior American Red Cross Club has been doing its share of community service. From passing out Halloween treats to children at the Junior Blind Foundation to playing Santa's helpers at a Christmas party at the Kennedy Center, the Red Cross Club has been a source of inspiration to many. Co-presidents Brigitte Lockner and Marla Miller, with the help of Roselle Cespon, vice-president, and Renee Cornwall, secretary-treasurer, also planned the biggest of Red Cross' gala events: the bloodmobile. This year, the bloodmobile came on March 13. Often though of as that onimous day by juniors, seniors, and faculty alike, the day passed on very well, leaving all involved hoping that the blood quota was reached.

Student government leads NDA activities

The Student Council and the Student Activities Council worked diligently together as a group to instill in the minds of the Student Body, pride for their school, Notre Dame Academy! For the school year '79-'80, ND spirit proved to be foremost in the thoughts of our students as demonstrated by their enthusiasm and increased participation in the various activities that the Student Council and the Student Activities Council painstakingly planned.

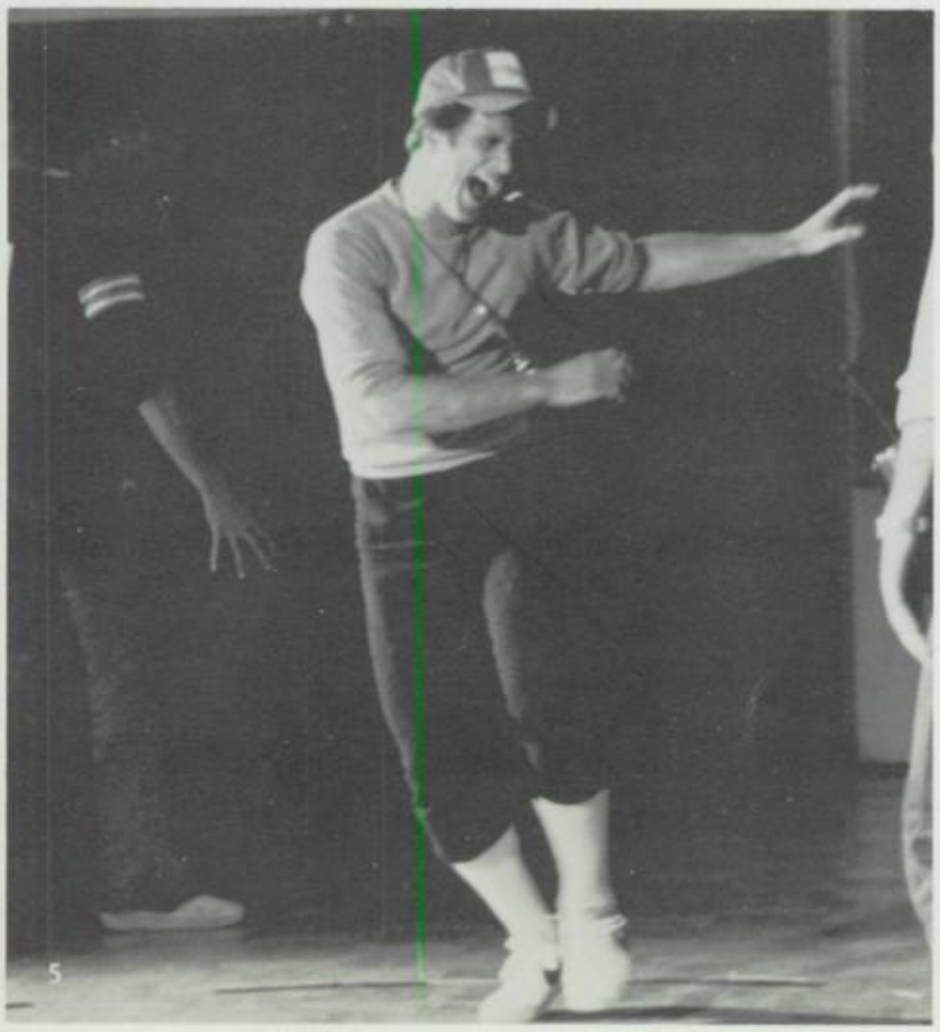
One episode of "Eight Is Enough", a terrific television show, was filmed at Notre Dame on February 6, 1980. Many girls attended the filming after school in the gym and on the elementary school's playground. The filming was quite a success. The actors and actresses were delighted to sign autographs for their fans at NDA.

Each "Eight Is Enough" episode has one major plot and two sub-plots. The title of this show was "Official Positions." The central theme was the changing roles of men and women. The main story was about Tom (Dick Van Patten) who has, for the past 10 years, been writing a book about the Korean War. His wife, Abbey (Betty Buckley) decided to take over the writing of the book. She finished the book and had a professor of hers read it. He was so impressed with it, he had it published for her. Needless to say, Tom was very upset about it. The first sub-plot was about the benefit basketball game that Merle (Brian Patrick Clarke) had a part in. He coached a team and proved to be a very strict coach whose main objective was to win. The girls became frustrated with him and fired him from his coaching position. The final plot was about Nicholas (Adam Rich) and a black boy named Jackson. Jackson's mother works at the Bradford house as a typist. Jackson is bussed to the school that Nicholas goes to and the two become friends.

This page is dedicated with love to Elizabeth Reilly from her dad and mom.



1. Part of the "Eight Is Enough" crew listens to the director as he gives them advice on their acting.
2. In the episode "Official Positions" Merle (Brian Patrick Clarke) demonstrates a basketball technique to Joanie (Lori Walters) during rehearsal.
3. A technician of "Eight Is Enough" checks the amount of light and its focal point on Nancy (Diane Kay) Bradford's face.
4. One of the actors, Merle the Pearl, pauses to give some helpful hints to the actress, Lani O'Grady, who plays Mary Bradford.
5. Merle eases the tension doing a little dance step when the camera is not rolling.

4. Sharing the excitement of receiving their class rings are Allyson Wynne and Mary Wensley.
5. Debbie Boutte and Sheila McCann move on to their next classes.

Debbie Butte Shiela

To take time to laugh is part of being the good old days, and it happens, too, as these days become the memories to be cherished. Whether it is a class party, the excitement of Halloween, or just someone's Hilton-style locker, these memories of laughter and joy will live forever.

Arianne--
Just as trees give up their leaves in the fall, all life must give up something in order to gain a new start.
As a student at NOTRE DAME ACADEMY, you must give up some pleasures, time and energy. Just as spring rewards the trees with new leaves, you will be rewarded with an abundance of knowledge--well worth the sacrifice.
Love--
Mom and Dad

Ar, Ar, Ar—

Drive-in "The Champ"—a trunk full of reindeers, Timothy Buttons, the horse with the splitting headache, Westwood Village, squirt guns, water fight, a little wet, Bri? Postermat, love machine, blast! Party at Bri's—supertramp, Steve and Bri went swimming-planned? Mo and Tina—stick together. Sneaking down side of house—muddy, Diane's shoes, jump-start Cadillac, Bob's Big Boy, lousy hot chocolate. School days are over they're coming to a close. As the end moves closer we begin to think of things we've done; war declaration, lunch, Ring Day, skiing and Barstow, Danny the cop, Joe & Mo, too much, the grusome twosome, Ter, Boo-boo & Basia, the zoo, the swinging girls with loud music and rolled down windows, the beach, our tans! Barb's sand castles sure! Doug, Rodger, Tony (Anthony Dean), they're the ultimate afra., warped factor and beach parties with Dr. Pepper! Beverly Hills Shopping spree, the prom, the after prom PARTY! The dressing room, "Oh my gosh, it's as big as my room!" Santa Barbara and Solvang, what travelers! Mamm, the "typical tourist" pose, long hike with Dutchess, Berryala, Ter's Halloween mask, her naps during English, phone calls and chicken soup, fashion show, "what they call those outfits?!" Balloons ans Basis free meal, Lynn's art work, retreat, delicious food, nature hike, holy log and ter's bathroom, crying, the choo-choo train, slapping Doug, Calalina plans, Palm Sprtings, check-out point and "we'll be friend together," 4-weelin' and the party in 1140. Moving posts in Mamm, and the parking lot field. Jogging swimming, tennis what athletes, Jimmy and 10:15 . All these memories and more to come make up these good times we've shared together.

Inez Ma.

Growth is developed by experience which is developed by risks which come through the years. Thanks for all Mom, Dad. We remember moments, not days. Through my years I've had good friends. Thanks. Marcia, Cathy, Claudia, Maureen, Joe, Michael, David, Richard, Lang, Marla, Carol. The Concerts, dances, snakes, signs. The putt putt. Goin down to the gas station. Say hey Abel and Junior. It's the end of four years of high school. Knock on wood. Cashews on the Freeway. Earth, Wind and Fire. Chicago. Reasons, call on me. You know who you are and so I'm saying to you "I do love you."

To Miss Wanna Be,
I'm glad you finally made it. Maybe you and your list of boys will turn into a list of men. You're a nice wonderful person and I wish you the best of luck. Please put on some weight because you won't make a Ram's cheerleader like that!
Bye,
Freda

TO RONIE,
Congratulations! Always remember to aim high and reach far, and someday the whole world will know where you are! Love,
Traci

RON

Many times I wondered if I'd still be there at this destination in your life, but as you see, I've gone no where. I'm glad I was able to share these past years with you. Thanks for being there.
Love always,

CRAIG

PLANT TALK

Please put me on your pedestal and keep me in the sunlight.

And if it gets cold some lonely night,

I beg you my master hold me tight.

And don't be deceived,

For if I am not loved and fed at least twice a day,

I will surely seem gray.

For we plants are frail sitting in our pails.

And if some morn you should arise and see me a deathly brown,

I beg you show me but one tear,

That I may hold so dear,

As I stand in Love so near.

To my Cakes who I love

Remember-the Hollywood nights in those Hollywood Hills? Eddy Money concert, monopoly at Marcell's, Yamashiro, singing in the streets, a slumber party, Director's Guild, Gina, New Year's Eve, the exciting Youth Club, Rod Stewart. Pigging out on Tab, Triscuits and cream cheese, hot caramel sundaes, (a cream cheese, avocado, bacon, tomato and alfalfa sprout sandwich), champagne, chocolate ice cream and pistachio nuts, trail mix, grapefruit juice and "No, I'm on a diet!" "But I'm not!" Don't forget M.G., J.B., Vincent, 4th of July, Larchmont Fair '77, push button radios, slurpees, Sara's party, that party in May, maniac Mark, Prom-nite, zodiacs and cashews, pomegranate dags, jacuzzi parties, choo-choo, Sara's, breakfast, "Where were you after the prom?", hortech, California girls at . . . Palm Springs '79, Hawaii '80-yes!, Catalina, Disneyland, the Cove, the raft and the maidens, Yosemite '79, Mazatlan, Oceanside, "Move! You're blocking my sun!", P.S. pals, shopping, talking hrs. about nothing and everything, mono, grad-nite, false alarms, that talk in JC Penny's dressing room, Steve at Marie Calendar's in Nancy's shoes, return from Argentina, hitting a police car, concession in a dune buggy and - we have much more fun! Bye everyone!

Thank God we've made it. Remember the camping trip and tearing down tents? What about the ski trip . . . black Vega, orange juice and room checks. Then there's Ring Day and TGIF's. "Who am I going to take to the Christmas dance?" Earl, Tony, Paul, Steve and a case of . . . Bac in the bath, lunch on OUR walkway. Jr/Sr Banquet—late 20 minutes, wonder why? Loyola games, parties, and dances, English III, Typing I when Lucy typed -11 wpm—wonder why? Groovy outfits, Sr. Lauretta's talks on the missions, "Girls, would ya mind coming in at 7:30!" Sara's nervous breakdown in geometry, Susie's in French. The prom was the best . . . Ken's hat, Sara's hawaiian punch, Nancy's party and the choo-choo train, or Sara's sophisticated party . . . "What's he rated?" What about Tab. MUNCHY FOOD, sunflower seeds. The park before VENICE. Sharon and the snails. Swensen's Fields Canterbury Lane. Tommy at L.G. station 10, and the weekend with Stuart. The Ang M Pinto, Van, Maverick, Volkswagen, moped and 10 speed. CheapTrick, Van Halen, Led Zeppelin, Supertramp and the knack. KMET. Only the good die young. Good girls don't . . . Ireland and Utah—"You went 12 days without anything?" Susie and her laughing fits. Sharon and the crazies . . . Suzanne and Vince, last ones at Sara's party. Hungover at work. Sara's and Shari's carpool. Lisa's singing. Eddie Money and Elton John concert. Thanks for the good times. Goodbye. The year of 1980 has arrived
Sara Sennett has survived
Graduation time is finally here
Her friends and family all cheer
We are all so very proud
Our congratulations are very loud
Our wish for you is further knowledge
This will be found in your future college.

To all my closest friends—"The Gang": Monica Carrillo, Agnes Amores, Karen Badon, Marsha Shoulders, and Sharon Scranage, my sane friends: Pat Erb, Susan Arroyo, Gloria Fotos, Maureen Scheib, and Elsie Rios—Thanks for teaching me what high school is REALLY all about:

Freshman year (1976-1977) found me lost among the students. Except for Monica, I didn't know anyone. Later, I literally bumped into Agnes, or should I say tripped over. I also had a hard time straining my neck just to see sky-high Karen Badon and Marsha Shoulders. Classes were never a problem with Maureen and me since we had the same schedule. In Red Cross, I somehow met Pat (I still don't know how we met). We shared the same problem—Big Mouth and the dreaded club president. The summer of '77 wasn't too bad at Harvey Mudd. Dorm hopping, having classes, and patying was fun. The most memorable event: Pat's hair conditioner—"From fluffy to flat".

Sophomore year (1977-1978) was too much. Our Town: Agnes did the LIGHTS, Monica ready for ACTION, and Me losing 10 pounds. The Filipino Quarter in English 10-H: Susan, Agnes, Angelica and me. Meeting "hey cuz" Sharon Scranage. Hey Pat, remember when I ran the bloodmobile? (that was a joke within a joke.) Elsie trying to organize a marathon dance.

Junior year (1978-1979) was a year of meeting new friends. The newly renovated staff of Royale (Sr. Llisa had to do a lot.) eager to work. Monica and I meeting yearbook dead lines. (Whew! We made it.) Monica scolding me for doing my homework in homeroom. (What! Roselle you're at it again!) Karen defending the rights of the disco duck. Susan and I slaving over chemistry problem sets, chemistry post-lab, chemistry lab, and chemistry in general. Pat and I wondering if we did okay on a French II test. (Pat's nervous and I'm worried—Pat gets an "A" and I get a "B".) My love life: Richard Hatch and Battlestar Galactica.

Senior year (1979-1980) is always the best: Monica and the Bunnys, Me and John H., Me and Eddie, and Me and Richard Hatch. Pat taking me fishing with Jay and Jeff. The wonderful day on Gloria's father's boat. Gloria and Susan trying to help me sort out my confused brain. (They had to clean out a great deal of bats in my belfry.) Oh well, I had a good time.

All my love . . . Roselle.

To all my pals: Nancy, Lanie, Joni, Kari, Gloria, Anne, Gigi, Llsa, Courtney + Bambi and all of you who make S.D. bearable! thanks . . . ! ! ! ! ! Nancy: trendsetter, "serious friend", San Diego, San. Fran? Superstrung + great new experiences . . . Lanie: Soph. yr. we made it - barely, parents, laughs n' cream cheese, supertramp "where's Lanie? "beach days Joni - bustop conferences. Tina, Matt Burke, "coffee breaks" Pismo sunsets, crying, P.V. - Speed Racer - "Hey slow down mario" Kari - Broadway, "where are you working?" Alan - buzz - crying in the bathroom during class - Gloria - mexico Mario, Mark (geek) Anytiville Horror "stop screaming, P.V. floozy" Anne - "Cinnamon Buns are fun" I still have your brown shoes, Mr. Matos - China girl - At Gigi - J.A. Ronald Kulberg, stock market crash "stop laughing" "where's the bathroom?" punk rocker hair do - disc jockey voice . . . Lisa - religion "I feel faint" clements "we aren't learning anything" Courtney - Dave, rescue squad on sat. nite . . . thanks for brightening-up! Britte - France Pat: "my steering wheel caught on fire" "vegetarian, Carolyn + Lola I miss you + something All of our - 16 b.d. party. horseback riding, champagne glass laughing, crying, talking. I'll never forget you! Alan - thanks. I love you - mom + dad, Delan, Kenny, Christian, "STAY GOLD" you're fantastic!!! I LOVE YOU ALL Theresa

To Karen, Agnes, Sharon, Monica, Susan,
Roselle, Lourdes, and all my friends:

Thanks for all the memories, good times and laughs we shared.

I love ya all!!!

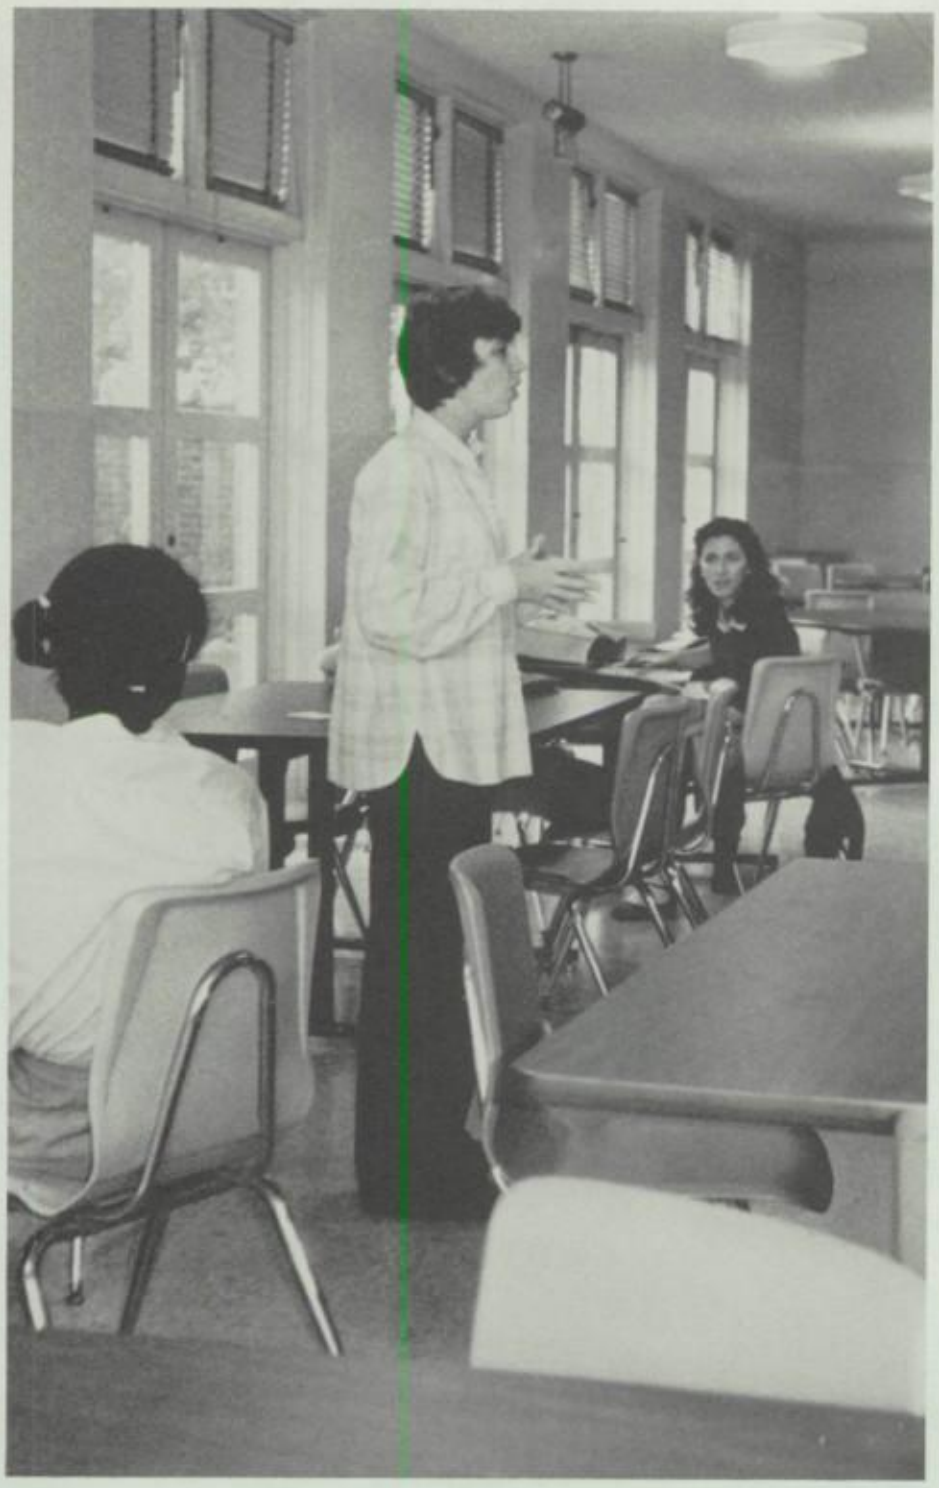
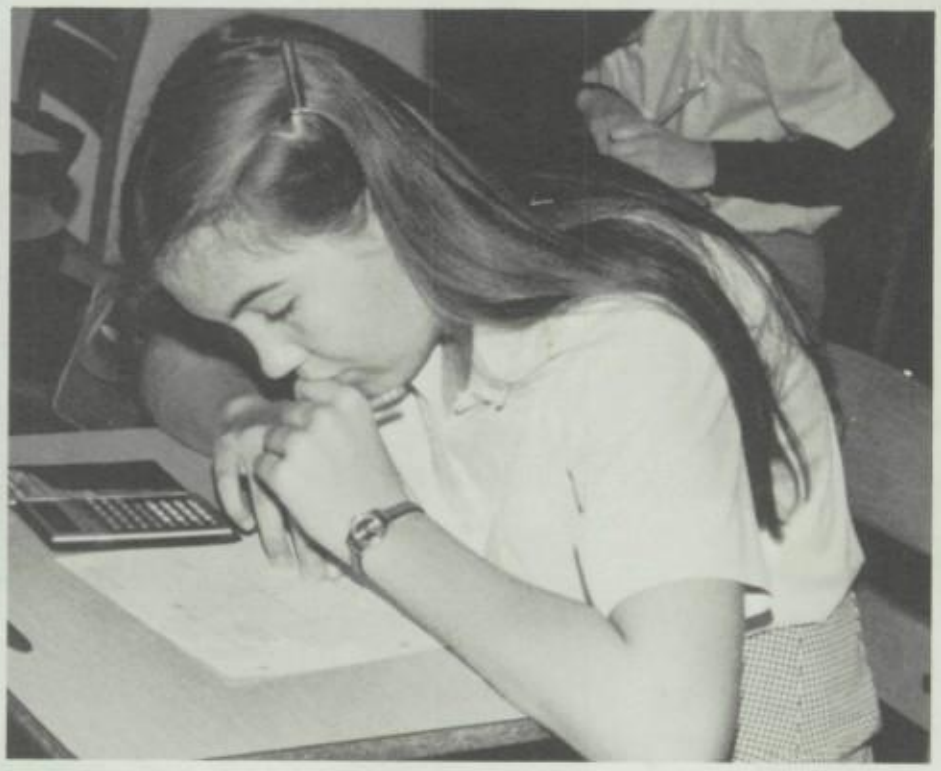
Turning these pages has been a chance for the reader to relive days, to capture moments, to recall friends and teachers—to make the year 1979-1980 present once more. In these pages, many "times" are recorded . . . laughing times, working times, dreaming times, loving times.



1. Alicia Cenzano, dressed in a Roman toga, snaps a picture of her friends on Halloween.
2. A special time to remember is this day—the day when the Class of 1980 officially became seniors. In this picture are Michele Mazzarella, Barbara Badowski, Lynn Holmes, and Teresita Arichea.
3. The Law Enforcement Explorers are teen-agers who provide help voluntarily to both police officers and the community throughout Los Angeles County. Dressed in their Explorer uniforms are Jenny Graham and Kath Suazo.
4. Inez Rodriguez listens attentively to Miss Horwinski's explanation of a Spanish story.
5. There's nothing like the freedom of 2:25 p.m.—according to Veronica Castillo's expression.
6. Pondering the next step in the solution is pre-calculus student Karen King.



This page is dedicated to Teresita Arichea with love from Mr. and Mrs. Venancio Arichea.

In these pages, success has been recorded and wisdom shown as it is found. Youth has been stopped in its bloom. Young women are shown as they hitch their wagons to stars and follow their own roads to happiness. Yet, not every moment can be placed within these rather limited pages. The many moments here are enough to lead one to take time to thank God for all who have been part of it.

Softball team sparks victories

The varsity softball team made great progress this season. The successful season is the result of the fine coaching by Miss Diana Harmon and the great team spirit. The team's progress is reflected by the improved record; by winning 4 of the last 5 games, the NDA varsity promises to be a league contender next year.

1. Rounding first base after a hit is Patty O'Donnell.
2. Pitcher Alicia Escudero sends a fast-ball to the plate.
3. Sara Fairfoot is ready to slam the ball into left field.
4. This moment of intense concentration is brought to you by Lisa Harpenau.
5. Covered with dirt, Donna Visser balances her hold on base (barely).
6. NDA's new softball coach, Miss Diana Harmon is shown in this photo after she had given a pep-talk to the team.
7. Elaine Walsh does not seem to agree totally with the umpire's call.
8. Congratulating each other for their fine defense are Elaine Walsh, Sara Fairfoot, Caroline Gonzalez and Donna Visser.
9. Members of the varsity softball team include (first row, left to right) Isabel Santos and Margaret O'Connor; (second row) Maureen Hughes, Carol Gonzalez, Laura Miyashiro, Linda Ambrose, Cathy Daley and Patty O'Donnell; (third row) Alicia Escudero, Miss Diana Harmon, Elaine Walsh, Lisa Harpenau, Karen Ambrose, Donna Visser, Sara Fairfoot and Kath Suazo.

Drama Club presents "Arsenic and Old Lance"

The Notre Dame Drama Club presented Arsenic and Old Lace as this year's spring production on the evenings of May 1, 2, and 3. Under the direction of Mr. Hugh Morton and the supervision of Sister Mary Ste. Therese, the play was successfully received by its audiences. Through the combined efforts of NDA and Loyola students and others, the play was the result of all those who so diligently attended rehearsals, worked backstage, and helped to finance the production. Special thanks go to Miss Candice Kelly, production assistant, and to Mary Trescony, student director.

4-"Arsenic and Old Lace"

1. Upon arriving, Dr. Einstein (Mitchell Fleiss) is about to sip the poisoned elderberry wine.
2. Teddy (Sharon Scranage) is seen receiving some important documents after she had some tea.
3. After having been away for 20 years, Joanna (Gloria Vela) checks to see how the house has changed.
4. Posing on stage are the crew (back row, left to right), Mr. Morton, director, Jacqueline Menendez, Juliana Nuccio, Patty Green, Manuela Grandits, Sandy Viteri, Nancy Almodovar, Maureen Burns, Terri Hessler, Sheila Parmentier, Karen Stronks, Kelli Horne, Mary Trescony, Zoe Ketchelidis, Agnes Amores, Renee Cornwall, Monica Bauer, Michelle Willoughby, Alicia Brass, Theanne Brown, Anne Cervanek, Martha Paschke, and Candice Kelly. In the front row is the cast (left to right) Chris Wheelan, Colin Glen, Gloria Vela, Mitchell Fleiss, Sharon Scranage, Stacy Fay, Michele Mazzarella, Joe Nuccio, Daryl Oswald, Jim Hannon, Steven Paschke, Nora O'Brien and Rick Llanos.
5. Aunt Abby (Stacy Fay), Dr. Harper (Chris Whelan) and Aunt Martha (Michele Mazzarella) converse after tea.

NDA charmed by "Sounds of Spring"

Sounds of Spring, the annual spring choral concert, took place on May 16, 1980 in the school auditorium. Attendance was good, and the audience showed its appreciation of the choral groups' talents with warm rounds of applause. Especially popular were the Ensemble's rendition of "Scarborough Fair", the Choraliers' "Gospel Train", and the Concert Choir's "Blow the Wind Southerly". Miss Sue Gottenbos, instructor and director of the choirs, the students in the choirs, and certainly the audience, acknowledged that Sounds of Spring was a resounding success.

This page is dedicated to Pam Sojka by her parents.

1. The Concert Choir, whose members are advanced music students, concentrate on Miss Gottenbos' careful and skillful direction.
2. The Fundamentals of Music students, those who are beginning the study of music, form the harmonic Choraliers.
3. The Ensemble, a group of highly talented advanced students, sing one of a collection of beautiful spring melodies.
4. Linda Scranage turns the pages for guitarist Liz Reilly, who, along with Michelle Mangione on the glockenspiel, accompanied the Ensemble during the Old English song "Scarborough Fair".
5. Also accompanying the singers are Stephanie Nelson and Susie Papet at the piano.

A quite memorable "Night on the Town"

"Night on the Town" was a very appropriate theme for the Senior Prom, held on Saturday, April 26. The scene of the festivities was The Odyssey in Granada Hills. After dinner, the couples danced to the music of City Lights. One highlight of the evening was the announcement of the prom queen and her court: Milana Caldwell, queen, and attendants Theresa Gilbert, Rita Elvin, Barbara Badowski and Allyson Wynne.

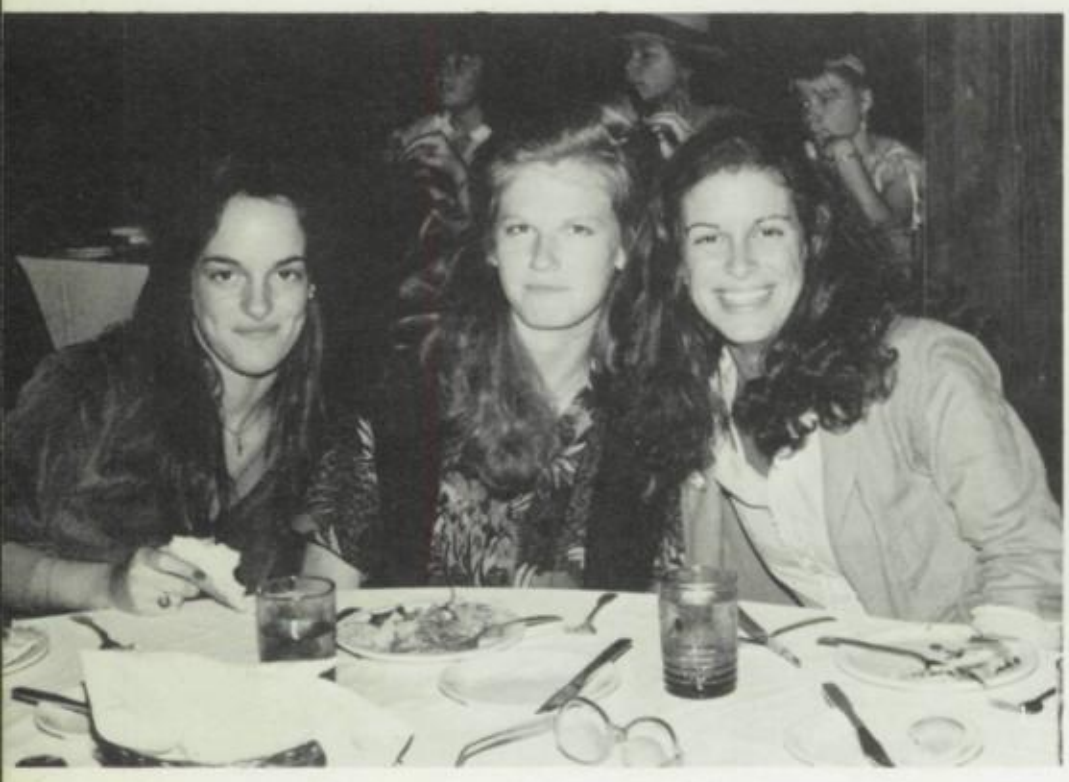
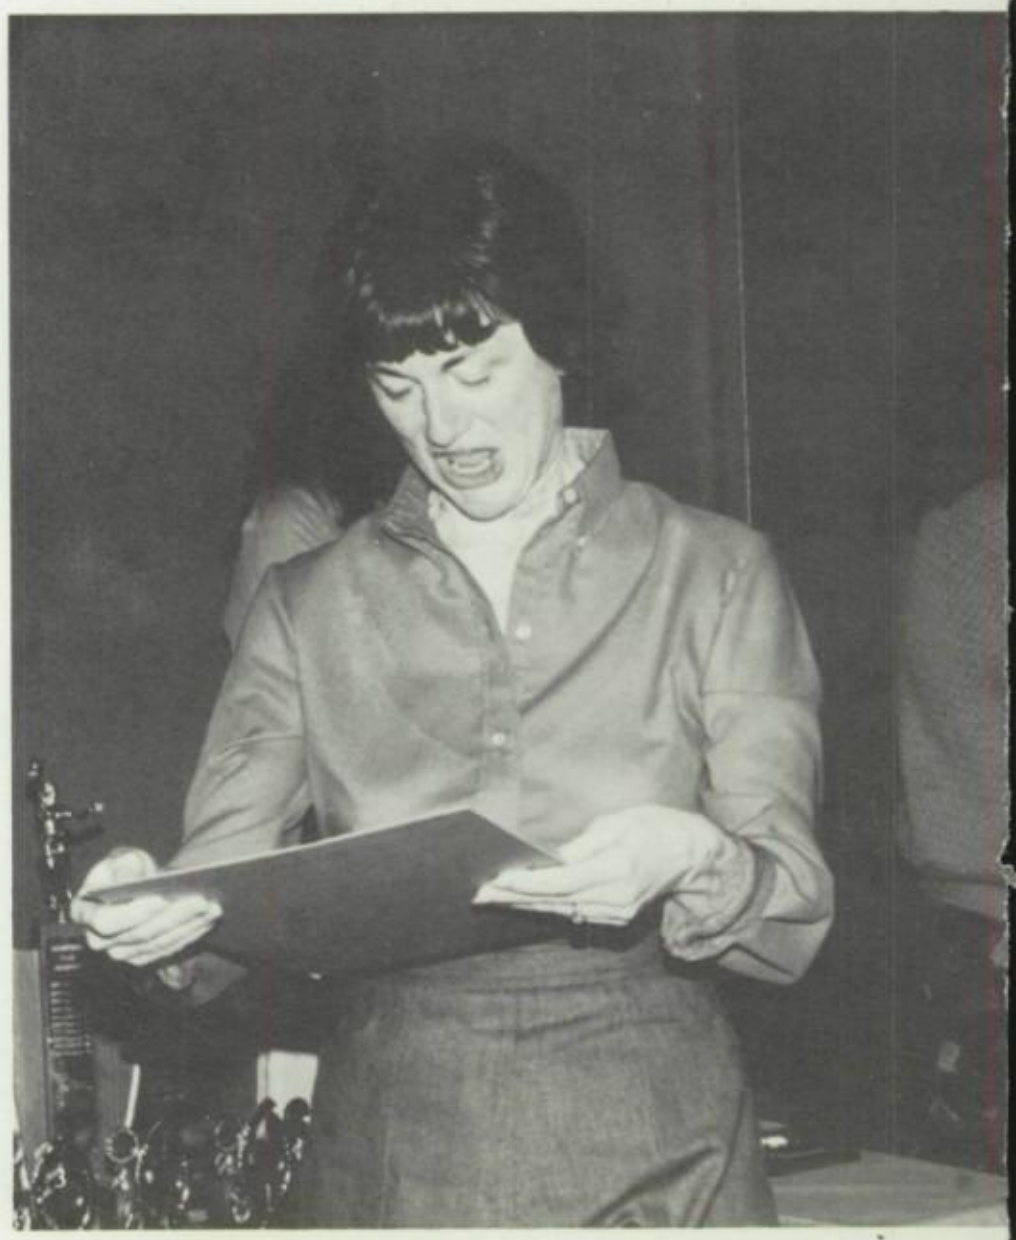
1. Teresita Arichea crowns a jubilant Milana Caldwell prom queen.
2. Allyson Wynne, junior princess, receives her flowers with great excitement and surprise from Barbara Badowski, Senior Class President.
3. Barbara Badowski waits patiently for the crowd's attention to begin her speech.
4. The newly-crowned Milana Caldwell poses proudly before the backdrop created especially for this special "Night on the Town."
5. Tina Garcia and her date wait patiently for things to begin, already knowing that this night will be very memorable.
6. Busily writing, Mrs. John Finnegan takes orders for prom pictures from excited couples.



End-of-year banquets- memorable events

The Lobster House was again the scene of the Junior-Senior Luncheon. The invasion of the Marina del Rey restaurant began at 12:30 and lasted until 4:00 on the afternoon of Friday, May 16. After a delicious luncheon, the seniors read the last will and testament of the Class of 1980.

Thursday evening, May 29, found NDA sports enthusiasts attending the annual G.A.A. Banquet, held at the Sports Deli in Century City. It was an evening of many happy memories as awards were presented to the outstanding athletes of the 1979-1980 year.



1. As they are eating salad and French bread, three happy seniors smile for the camera. They are Lori Minichiello, Rita Elvin and Courtney McNicholas.
2. Nuala O'Connell congratulates Mrs. Barbara Roth on the bequeathment that she received from Nuala. Notice the expression of Sister Gina Marie.
3. At the G.A.A. Banquet, Mrs. Frances Prior received a special award in recognition of her outstanding record as a Queens' fan.
4. Proudly holding her award for Most Valuable Player in the field of volleyball is Colleen Prior.
5. In appreciation for her dedication to the athletes of NDA, Mrs. Vilija Karalius was presented with a plaque by Elaine Walsh, G.A.A. President for 1980-1981, and Kath Suazo, G.A.A. President for 1979-1980.
6. Miss Diana Harmon congratulates Donna Visser as she received an award for being the Most Inspirational Player in the field of softball.

Olympiad, Mary's Day at NDA

This page is dedicated to Kathy Boylan by Mr. and Mrs. Boylan

Following what seems to be a new Notre Dame tradition, the Olympiad was postponed several times on account of rainy weather. Finally Notre Dame's version of the Olympics was held on Wednesday, April 16. Events for individual competition were held at Palms Park across the street from the school: water balloon toss, sack race, football throw, basketball shot, three-legged race, etc. The intramural basketball games were held in the gym. The Class of 1983 proved that they are number one, winning the basketball games handily. The Class of 1980 received the award for winning the greatest number of events.

The first day of May is always dedicated to the Virgin Mary. The May crowning was outdoors at the statue of Our Lady which stands in front of the gym doors. The students, dressed especially for this occasion in dressy clothes, gathered in the circle for the little ceremony. Although clouds hung in the sky, the good Lord decided not to let it rain that day as it had the rest of the week.

1. Hopping along in the sack race is Erin Sullivan.
2. The agony of defeat shows on the face of Monique Abatte as her water balloon breaks.
3. The four class presidents, Barbara Badowski, Karen Stronks, Erin Sullivan, and Monique Heyninck, honor Mary during the Mary's Day celebration.
4. Kathy Howlett, Commissioner of Christian Service, crowns Mary; Karen Stronks is holding the crown pillow.
5. Sheila O'Connell, Sonja Prochaska, Cathy Daley, Sheila Parmentier, Denise Del'Amico, and Sue Brennan are ready at the starting line of the three-legged race.

Never a dull moment!

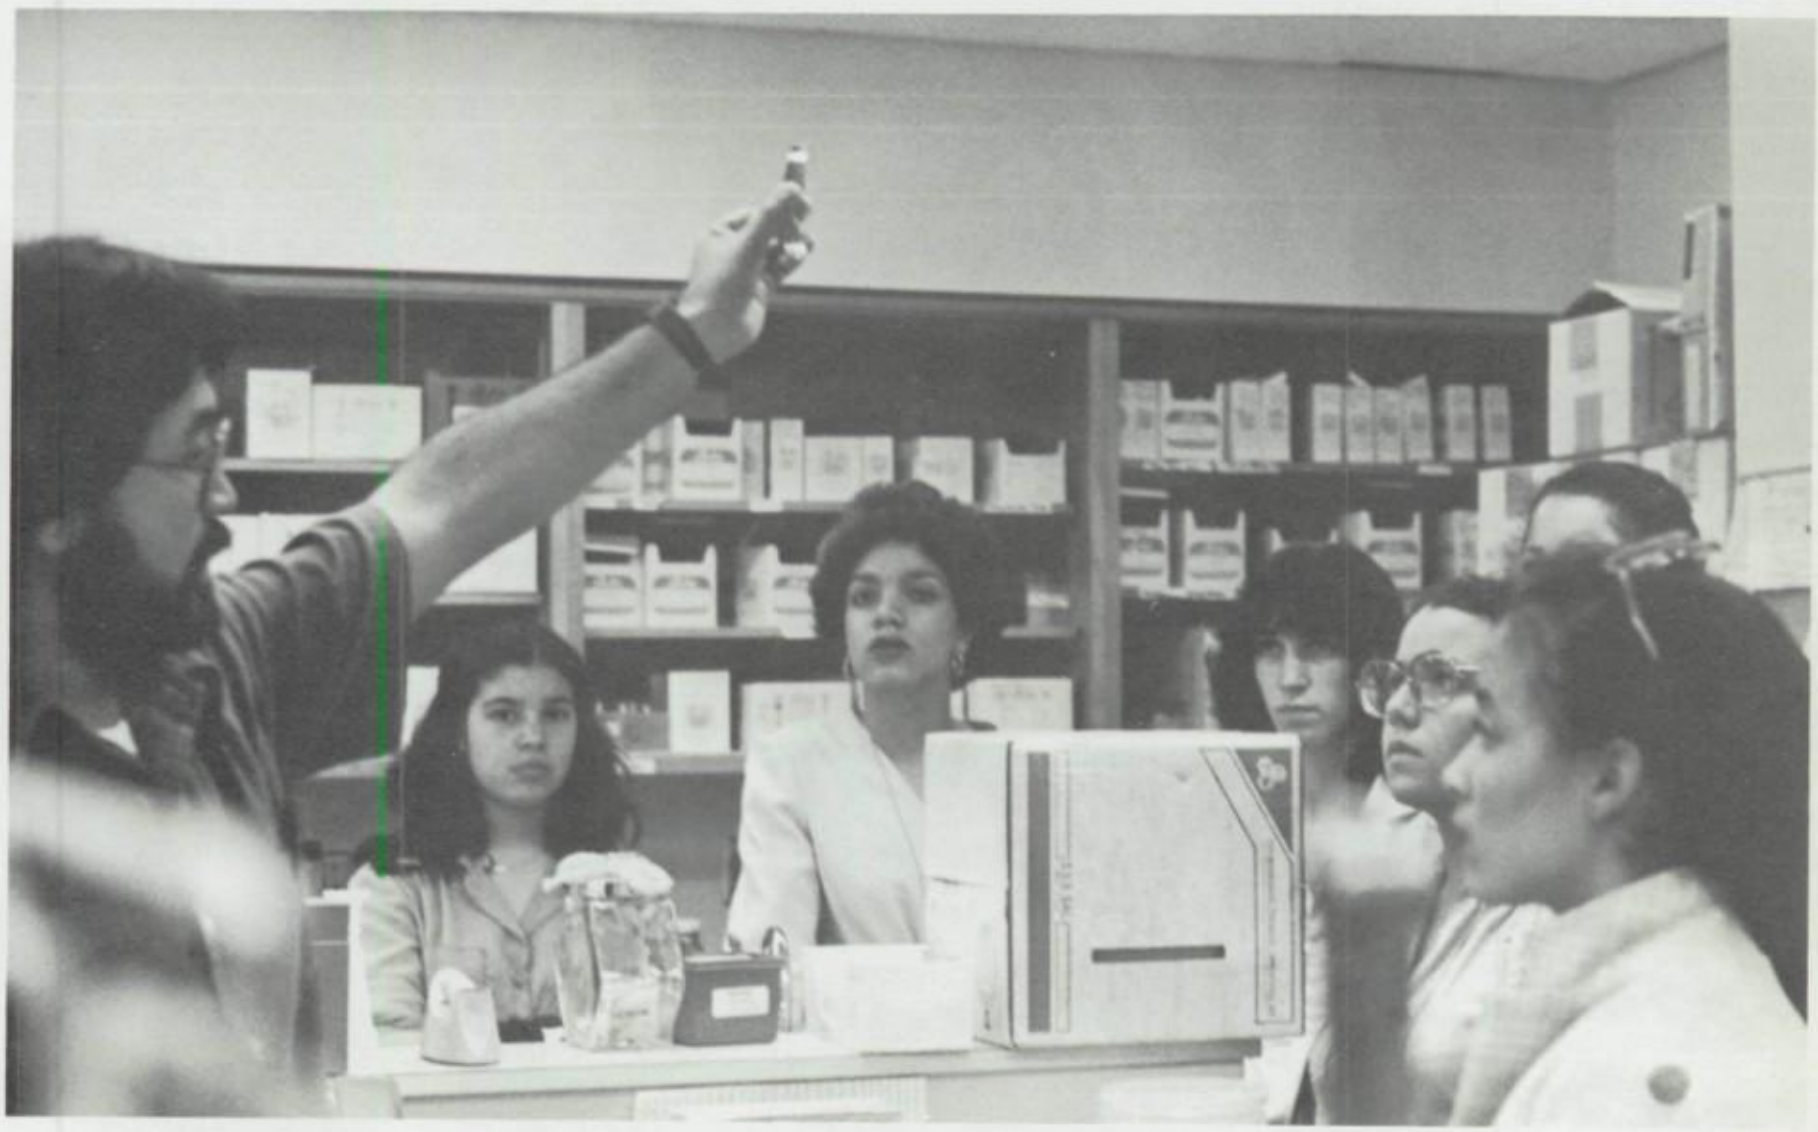
The Red Cross Bloodmobile made its annual trip to Notre Dame on March 13. Teachers, eligible students, parents and friends gathered in the gym to donate blood for the many patients who need it. Notre Dame's own Red Cross Club planned and worked on this event, which drew a great number of donors.

Thursday, April 24 was Appreciation Day. Prior to this day, students ordered flowers to be sent to their friends and to their favorite teachers to show how much they cared for and appreciated them. The flowers and their accompanying notes were distributed in homeroom period by members of the Student Council.

Early in the morning on Saturday, May 10, several students arrived at school, ready to help with the Avon Race, a running race held near the Rose Bowl. They were given such jobs as distributing water to the runners and recording time. For their efforts they were later gifted with various Avon cosmetics and special t-shirts.

Members of the physiology class learned much about hospital work when they toured Daniel Freeman Hospital. The tour included a thorough explanation of the pathology department and the respiratory therapy unit.

1. Sylvia and Gina Tronci pose in their new t-shirts as they wait for their assignments at the Avon race.
2. An excited Lori Travis is shown here on Appreciation Day.
3. Nancy Hawkins digs into the refreshments after she has donated blood.
4. Martha Shokair waits for the rest of her flowers before beginning to read her notes.
5. Mixed emotions seem prevalent as this group of seniors waits to give blood; they are Barbara Badowski and Courtney McNicholas in the back, and Lisa Legrand and Ter Arichea in the front.
6. Tita Hug and Roselle Cespon take a break from their duties as receptionists at the Red Cross Bloodmobile.
7. These fascinated physiology students are shown at Daniel Freeman Hospital: Jackie Matta, Theresa Pace, Kathy Schoen, Nora O'Brien, and Sybil Bordenave.



Peggy O'Donnell named Student of the Year

Another senior class has come and gone. And with them they took many honors along with their diplomas. Following a Mass, the graduates received their honors at a special assembly held on Friday, June 6. At this time, Peggy O'Donnell received the highest honor for a student at Notre Dame, the Student of the Year Award.

On Wednesday, June 4, the juniors, sophomores and freshmen gathered for the annual promotion assembly. For their outstanding cooperation and spirit shown throughout the year, the freshmen received the spirit award. In recognition for mission-mindedness and generosity, two homerooms were honored for reaching 100% in the mission collections: sophomore homeroom 208 and freshman homeroom 306. Other awards were made, and each class was officially promoted.

1. Three graduates who were chosen to present the gifts at the Offertory on Senior Honor Day were Veronica Castillo, Lori Minichiello, and Veronica Delery.
2. Here the seniors are pictured singing the alma mater to the rest of the student body for the last time. The three graduates in the front row are Lori Minichiello, Veronica Delery, and Brigitte Dahan.
3. Sister Mary La Tier is seen here presenting the Hugh Morton Drama Award to her niece, Stacy Fay.
4. Annually, the Bess Fouts scholarship is awarded to the incoming sophomore who maintains a high grade point average and is an active and friendly member of the student body. This scholarship is made possible through the generosity of Mr. Fouts in honor of his wife, Bess. Past winners include Elizabeth Byrne '79, Michele Mazzarella '80, Patty Poduska '81, and Bonnie Abaunza '82. This year's recipient was Mylene Recto, pictured here among her proud friends as the award was announced.
5. Another prestigious award presented annually is the Student of the Year award. It is a plaque with the recipient's name engraved on it; the plaque hangs in the entry hall of the school. This year's winner was Peggy O'Donnell, pictured here with Sister Mary La Tier.
6. At the promotion assembly, a jubilant Jenny Tabor hugs her classmate Mary Trescony after the juniors were officially named seniors.

This page is dedicated to Sara Sennett by Bob and Eileen Bard.

Class of 1980 joins ranks of alumnae

Commencement Exercises for the Class of 1980 were held on Sunday, June 8 at 4:00 p.m. on campus. Following the traditional "Processionale de Notre Dame", valedictorian Diane Nuno welcomed the guests. A highlight of the ceremony was the singing of the class song by the graduates, "Trying for the Sun". Within about one hour, the longed for occasion was complete, and the Class of 1980 joined the ranks of the NDA alumnae.

1. Representing Timothy Cardinal Manning, Reverend Monsignor Peter Healy of Our Lady Chapel congratulated the graduates and sent them forth with the blessing of God and the Church.
2. Diane Nuno welcomes parents, relatives and friends in her opening remarks.
3. Eve Szurley, also honored as valedictorian of the Class of 1980, expressed appreciation to all who had made high school such a time of growth.
4. This year's commencement address was delivered by Reverend Liam Kidney, Principal of Bishop Montgomery High School, and a member of the senior retreat team.
5. "The Hands of Time" was sung by the members of the Notre Dame Concert Choir.
6. Patty Green grasps her diploma with great happiness.
7. Susan Arroyo, Brittz Bald, Kathy Howlett and Agnes Amores are among this group of graduates.
8. and 9. Donna Visser and Suzanne Toller flash smiles which show their feeling of accomplishment.
10. Lisa Babilonia graduates, as always with her usual vigor.

We made it?!

Publishing a 220-page yearbook is a major production with various crises. Due to the dedication and help of many people, this book reflects the moods and events which took place in 1979-1980. Take time to remember.

In particular, we thank these people for their effort and hard work.

Dear Dee Dee,
Well the year is almost finished and we probably won't see each other over the summer unless I see Russell :). You've really been nice to me and I'll never forget it. You were the first person I met at Notre Dame and I'll always remember you. Stay the way you are and keep in touch. 239-5138

Love always,
Regina.

To. Dee Dee,
Someone I met at N.D. I'm glad I met you because you're one more person to add to my special list of friends. I hope you will always be my friend, sister (what ever.) Remember me always and don't forget me over the summer! You know that I won't forget you! You know that! Keep it touch and remember the class of '83, the frosh do it the best! I-734-3444 Love Ya Always Kathi c/o '83

Dee Dee, Kitchen Has good looks almost as gorgeous as Daddy's.

Dee Dee's Kitchen has delicious blackberry thumbprint cookies (Geoff's favorite) and Purple Power Punch. Thanks for coming over to have a cookie with us. Next year will have some class! ha.

P.S. you are going to have to get your own cookies!

Ha! I visit over the summer. (We are going to have a summer party!) I'd love to! It's been so long since I've been to Dee Dee's Kitchen. I'll be sure to get a cookie or two. I had a cookie before I left. I didn't realize it was so delicious!

Ha! I'm not kidding. Purple Power Rag.

To Dee-Dee,

Stay sweet and stay cool. I've known you for a long time and I'll never forget you. Remember the bad and the good times. Stay at hook N.D.H. because I don't want you at cool S.M.H.....

I will always love you.

Your G.F.

Yvette

To: Didi a great, wonderful friend who I hope to get to know better in our coming years of high school. Hope you don't change. You are just too matter ful the way you are. Have fun this summer. Love ya, Christy

Hi Sweetie! You're such a sweet girl Denise & I can't believe new friends we are. I'm really glad we had classes together. We'll pay ya back one of these days for all the papers you borrowed, I promise! Have a great summer & hope that next

To Dee Dee

You're a real cool chick and I'm glad you came to N.D.H. Have you noticed we didn't have not one class together. I relieved. Just kiddin' kid. Boy was I great time w/George and any other boys you meet.

I can write neet, don't you think so.
